Curriculum cuts already implemented

Approval of school millage would save part of system

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The Romulus Board of Education will be going back to the voters one last time this year to request millage to save part of the school system's programs.

Voters will be asked on Sept. 13 to approve a 5-mill tax increase to cover revenues lost due to change in Michigan's business tax laws late last year.

'The reasons for the millage are the same as proposed in the early summer — school revenues will be down this year.'

The increase would raise $980,000 if 100 percent of the taxes due the system were collected this year. However, based on the "realistic" 92-percent rate of collection on taxes, the increase, if approved, actually would raise about $900,000 to cover the cost of operations.

The same 5-mill tax increase request was defeated by a 3-1 margin in June.

According to Supt. James Garfield, the request for the tax hike is designed to bring school operations back to normal in the second semester of the 1976-77 school year.

"The board has implemented some cuts because of the defeat in June which cannot be changed until the second semester, even with the approval of the tax increase," Garfield said. "In general, the secondary education curriculum is cut back from a 6-hour day to a 5-hour day with the elimination of electives in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades," he said. "We've also approved the elimination of art, physical education and vocal and instrumental music at the elementary level."

Cuts also involved personnel, with last year's 331-teacher staff pared back by 47 positions.

Among other possibilities discussed by the board of education to shave costs was the elimination of high school sports — a move which has Detroit political, civic and business leaders concerned following that district's defeat of a millage increase request by the voters earlier this month.

Garfield said. "But that change wouldn't hurt as much as the $1 million cuts which have had to be implemented because of the millage defeat."

Still to be named by the school district is a chairman of the millage campaign committee.

"We're offering a 'minimum program' in this district right now,"

Garfield said. "It's not the type of program we're used to offering in Romulus, but it's what we're forced to offer because of the money situation."

That looks like fun!

Showdown pushed over sewage issue

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Communities involved in the Downriver Sewage Disposal system operated by the Wayne County Road Commission may force a "showdown" on who owns capacity for sewage treatment in the system's plant on the Detroit River.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer has organized a meeting this week in the Romulus Civic Center to detail his community's opposition to proposal that would allow Riverview to enter the downriver system. Gollwitzer wants the road commission to clarify whether the 12 communities which helped finance construction of the system "own" capacity in that system above the originally engineered rate.

"I'm tired of Van Buren Township being the 'bad guy' in doing what it believes is the right thing for its taxpayers," Gollwitzer said. "Van Buren and the other communities in the downriver system helped finance all the construction that system, and in effect hired, the Wayne County Road Commission to manage it."

"Under the road commissioner's management with the communities' funds, the capacity of the system was increased by 35 percent, and now the communities are learning that they don't really 'own' that capacity in the eyes of the road commission."

Van Buren is the lone community of the 12 now involved in the downriver system which has refused to sign an agreement allowing the City of Riverview to enter the system.

Van Buren officials maintain they did not sign the agreement because on two previous occasions the road commission agreed to correct the discrepancy over "ownership" if the community signed.

'We're offering a minimum program in this district right now. It's not the type of program we're used to offering. . .'
— Supt. Garfield.

The reasons for the millage request are the same as proposed in the early summer — school revenues will be down this year because of a change in the Michigan business tax laws which prohibit school districts from collecting millage for inventories held by businesses in the community.

The change reduces the "worth" of 1 mill in taxes for the Romulus School District from better than $210,000 this year to $196,000 next year.

The requested tax increase would cover most of the revenue loss, according to Garfield.

However, the superintendent added, Romulus' curriculum would face cuts from last year's levels even with the tax increase approval.

"We'd still have to shave the budget by $50,000 to $100,000,"

Last program of year is Saturday

Future of Community Mart clouded

The Romulus Community Mart may be holding the last of its gatherings at the Romulus Progressive Club on Ozga at Huron River Drive in Romulus.

The Mart is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday with the Romulus Bicentennial Choir providing entertainment.

Scheduled to perform at noon, the choir, consisting of singers and performers from churches from the Belleville-Romulus area, will sing a number of religious, inspirational, patriotic and popular songs.

Included is a projected "sing-along" under the direction of Choir Director Ada Scott and with the accompaniment of Ella Moore.

Janet Darnell, a member of the Community Mart Committee, has put together this weekend's entertainment, which will be offered in conjunction with the bartering and selling of produce, handicrafts and minor antiques.

Beverly McAnally, the originator of the Community Mart idea two years ago, said this year's effort has had a checkered record with some events drawing many participants and others flopping.

"We've been having difficulty getting people out to sell produce and other goods," Mrs. McAnally said. "Part of the reason may be the location."

"Although the Progressive Club site is well-known to the residents of Romulus and surrounding communities, it isn't located in the main corridor of travel for Romulus, so we don't get as many 'drop in' customers as we had in past years."

The Mart was located at the Romulus Civic Center during the first two years of its operation, however, the civic center parking lot was eliminated as a possible location for the Mart when the Romulus City Hall was closed to the public on Saturdays.

"In the past, we had the use of the rest rooms at the city hall to care for the visitors," Mrs. McAnally said. "But the mayor indicated that it would be too costly to open the hall this year, since some city workers would have to be called in."

"In the past, I was qualified to open the City Hall, but it isn't the case this year."

Though she is a member of the Romulus City Council, the city hall has been closed to Mrs. McAnally and others except during regular business hours and during specially conducted council meetings this year.

Because of the problems surrounding the use of the public facilities at the city hall, several councilmembers suggested that the Mart be moved to the Progressive Club, built with charitable donations from the citizens of Romulus.

"We're extremely grateful for the cooperation of the Romulus Progressive Club," Mrs. McAnally said. "The location is ideal in terms of facilities, but not in terms of traffic."

"That makes it tough on the merchants we need to draw more people to the Mart."

The non-profit Community Mart is run by a volunteer citizens' group under the direction of Mrs. McAnally.

Members of this year's community Mart committee are Goldie Hoffman, Donna Lee Zavitz, Vince Parratta, Norene DePalma, Maureen Maddish, Marilyn Radford, Genevieve Dugan, Nolene Suessine, Gloria Chandler, Ro

Plocki, June Blanton, Carole Bales, Dorothy Stellwagon, Vi Martin, Robert Lee, Charlotte Troutt, Fred Williams and Geneva Clark.

"We've had some successful events, such as the Kiwanis pancake breakfast, which was held in conjunction with the also-successful children's pet show, and the art show, the doll show and the senior citizens day program," Mrs. McAnally said.

"But there also were the disappointments, such as the children's day, when the moon walk exhibit scheduled to be there didn't show up, and crowds stayed away," she said.

"The Rotary had planned to hold an ice cream social that day, and purchased 50 gallons of ice cream for the event."

"Only three gallons were used. It was a bit embarrassing, but the Rotarians were good about it."

Mrs. McAnally singled out the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club for special mention for their cooperation in the Community Mart Program.

"I don't want this to sound like the end," Mrs. McAnally said. "We have to realize we remember the bad times, and not always the good."

"When this week's mart is over, the committee will get together and go over this year's events before we make a determination on the future of the mart."

"For getting people together, the mart has been a success on some weekends."

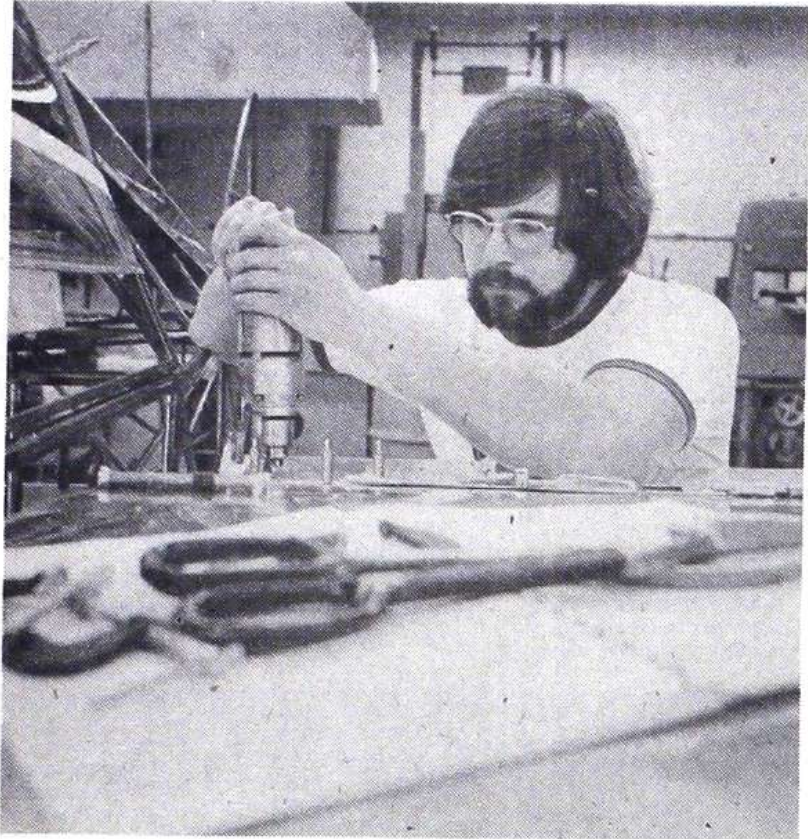

"But there haven't been as many sellers, or buyers, as in past years, and that's a problem for us."

"We'll have to see what can be done about it before we gear up for next year's program, provided we decide to have it next year."

Through EMU summer class

Romulus man builds passenger airplane

Most children at one time or another are fascinated with building models, especially airplanes. That childhood fascination became an educational experience for Romulus resident Gary Stafffield of Dru Road, a graduate student at Eastern Michigan University (EMU).

GARY STAFFFIELD

Gary, a vacationing teacher from Thurston High School in Detroit, is participating in a summer workshop at EMU which involves construction of a life-sized, 2-passenger plane. The workshop is being offered by EMU's department of industrial education.

Construction of the plane began about four weeks ago in the 4-hour aircraft construction class, taught by assistant professor Al Roth. The 15 graduate students enrolled in the class are learning aircraft construction by building an 18-foot, 10-inch Formula-V racing aircraft, called the Sonarai II.

Many of the class members are experienced in the different areas of construction, such as welding, machining or working with sheet metal. Most of the graduate students teach industrial education in high school or vocational schools.

"During the past five weeks, each group of students has fabricated certain parts of the plane such as the fuselage, wings, landing gear and tail," Prof. Roth said. "Now we have to assemble all these pieces together to complete the plane."

Each part of the construction of the plane was a time consuming task. Building the fuselage involved cutting and fitting each tube of the frame precisely, tacking the tubes together securely, then sandblasting them smooth. The ribs of the wings had to be measured, cut and fitted, then mounted onto the frame and covered with sheet metal.

When completed, the aircraft will be propelled by an air-cooled Volkswagen engine and be able to cruise at 140 miles per hour with a 10-gallon gas tank.

The Sonarai II will have an 18-foot, 8-inch wing span and collapsible wings for towing behind a car.

After construction, the aircraft will be used for sport flying by its owner, the Wolverine Aviation Co., which provided the materials and hardware for construction.

"The purpose of the class is to give the graduate student knowledge of the processes involved in building an airplane," Roth said.

After the summer class, Roth hopes that the industrial education teachers who participated in the workshop, like Stafffield, will return to their teaching jobs and construct an airplane in their own classes.

"It would be a great project that could be extended over the period of a high school year, rather than the concentrated course we have here," the professor added.

Stafffield will be teaching auto mechanics, architectural drawing and mechanical drawing at Thurston in fall.

Policemen benefit from college grant

Police officers will benefit from a recent grant of $300,000 to Mercy College of Detroit, awarded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) of the U.S. Department of Justice.

The grant will enable the college to accept some 150 additional inservice police officers in the law enforcement program this fall. The program is the largest in the State of Michigan.

"Additional fulltime staff has been appointed to enhance the professional parttime faculty which has given the program its fine reputation for quality education for police officers," said Johannes Spreen, director of the Mercy College program and Oakland County sheriff. "These funds allow us to continue the work of educating the foremost law enforcement leaders of tomorrow."

Inservice police officers can contact the financial assistance office at Mercy College for further information relating to tuition coverage due to the grant. The office's telephone number is 531-7820 ext. 288.

Registration for the fall semester at the Detroit college currently is underway, with Aug. 30 through Sept. 3 the final week to enroll.

Mercy College is located at 8200 W. Outer Drive, Detroit.

Institute to offer classes

Art World's, the Institute of Creative Arts, now is offering a full program of classes for the fall.

Beginning Sept. 14, Art World's instructors will be giving, individualized attention in more than 80 different courses to be offered in photography, fine arts, dance and physical arts.

Other new courses include Balinese dance, Latin Dances, Afro Dance and Shorinnyu (Karate).

Registration and scheduling information for the fall term is currently taking place 5 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday at 213 1/2 S. Main in Ann Arbor between Washington and Liberty.

Contact Art World's at 994-8400.

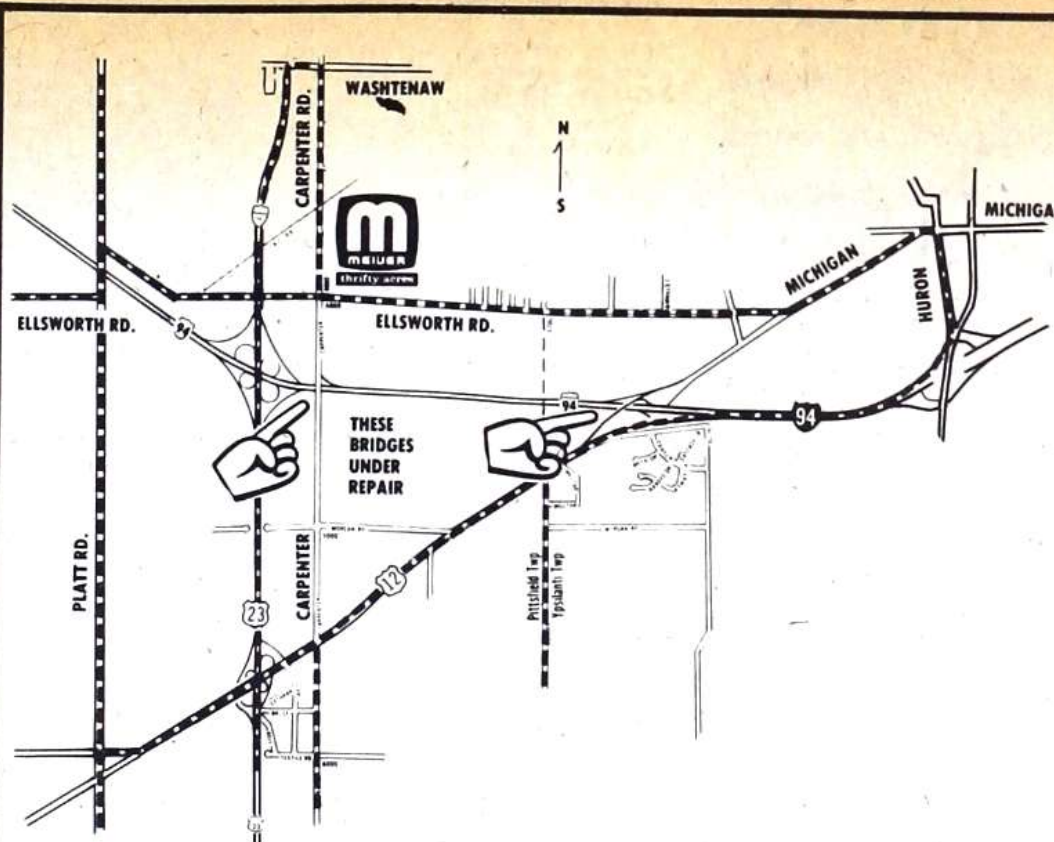

'56ers gather

The Romulus High School Class of 1956 will be holding a reunion Aug. 28 at LeRight's Banquet Hall in Westland.

Tickets for the reunion can be obtained from Fred Zakolski by calling 563-8763.

Cost of the tickets is $20 per couple for dinner and dancing.

Are Young Marines the answer to parents' prayers?

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Enterprise Roman Staff Writer

Parents looking for a means to teach their youngsters greater self discipline should look toward the Young Marines.

According to Charlotte Strawbridge, of Belleville, whose 10-year-old son, Timothy, is working toward the rank of corporal in the group after serving for eight years, "the young Marines is valuable to a youngster."

"Members learn discipline, close order drill, map reading, compass reading and engage in such development activities as camp-outs."

The G.P. Porta Detachment of the Young Marines, of which Tim is a member, will be holding a fall "bootcamp" starting at the end of September.

"It will only cost a youngster $7 for the first year to join," Mrs. Strawbridge. "The cost afterwards is $5 per year."

"The young marines can serve youth during all of their formative years, if they're enrolled early."

The G. P. Porta Unit of the Young Marines meets Mondays at the VFW Post 3323 Hall, 1055 S. Wayne Road, in Westland. Youngsters involved in the detachment engage in character building activities from 7-9 p.m. each Monday, with special enrichment activities scheduled for the weekends and weeks during the summer.

"The members just got back from a camp out near Sault Ste. Marie and will be going on a outing this weekend," Mrs. Strawbridge said. "During the camp-outs the boys get an opportunity to practice the skills they learned during the meetings."

Costs involved in the program not only include the "initiation fee" which covers insurance, but also the cost of uniforms and camping expenses.

"The youngsters have 12 weeks during boot camp to get their uniforms together," Mrs. Strawbridge said. "But there's a chance that some of the members will be selling used uniforms at reduced costs."

"The most expensive item is the jump boots, but they last, since the youngsters wear them only once each week for the meetings."

Mrs. Strawbridge indicated that the leaders of the Young Marine detachment, which is commanded by Pat Porta, use an incentive system to teach discipline.

Youngsters "earn" ranks in the Young Marines, and at times, could lose their hard-earned rank if they have a discipline problem.

"We've had a case where a boy who made sergeant was busted back to private first class for a breach of discipline," Mrs. Strawbridge said. "The action teaches the youngsters respect for authority."

Information on the Young Marines can be obtained by calling Mrs. Strawbridge at 699-6749.

One of the benefits incoming members may receive is the "free" use of a Young Marine campground.

The Porta Detachment is in line to receive the old Washtenaw County Muscular Dystrophy Campground for its sole use during the coming months.

The donation of the campground to the detachment will allow the 70 members to engage in outdoor activities at less cost than if they had to rent camping space.

"The campground gives us just another reason why the Young Marines are so valuable to the development of youth," Mrs. Strawbridge said. "We're looking forward to new members and an even better year next year with the campground."

Drug overdose? | Accidental poisoning?

Help now only seconds away for Western Wayne residents

Every second counts in an accidental poisoning or drug overdose. And for Western Wayne County residents help in such situations now is only seconds away at St. Mary's Hospital of Livonia.

That medical facility as well as Providence Hospital in Southfield, with the aid of the Detroit Bank offices in the respective communities, last week opened their poison information and management systems.

The systems, developed by Dr. Barry Rumack, director of the Rocky Mountain Poison Center in Denver, Colo., and Dr. Sidney Smock, staff physician of the Livonia Emergency Service at St. Mary Hospital "reduces the time needed to begin effective treatment in many unusual poison cases from hours to seconds."

Devised by the Rocky Mountain Center and the National Center for Poison Information—also located in Denver—the Poisindex currently contains integrated bits of information on more than 150,000 specific compounds, with detailed medical treatment for their toxic properties.

Dr. Smock described the new system as "the most complete and innovative emergency poison-overdose management system ever to be offered with emphasis on specific, step-by-step treatment."

Poisindex not only lists products separately, but under brand-trade, generic and manufacturer names, imprint code, all known slang terms, abbreviations, common misspellings, "product no longer manufactured" and "product now called."

The system consists of an ever growing data bank of computer-generated information on compounds and their corresponding treatments. In addition to containing all information found in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Clearinghouse Cardex, Poisindex includes compound ingredient ratios and formula information which has been gathered from pharmaceutical, commercial and industrial chemical, paint, grocery, hardware, cosmetic and over-the-counter drug industries throughout the world.

On the average in less than 25 seconds a hospital staff member can determine the specific product and have access to information concerning its ingredients, proper treatment, including related information covering pharmacology, clinical effects, range of toxicity, role of the laboratory and even major published reference for case followup.

At the hospital, staffers use a desk-sized microfiche reader and a notebook-sized film file of microfiche cards, each of which contains more than 2,000 entries.

Using the system, a person merely looks in the microfiche file for the alphabetical fiche nearest to the unknown poison. The fiche then is inserted in the reader and an index frame is found, referring the staffer to the proper section to find the specific material.

The reader instantly can find the composition of the material and then refer to the management program, carried on separate cards.

By moving the selector arm of the system to that section, the staffer can immediately locate the medical management procedure for the potential poison in question.

To keep Poisindex abreast with the changing times, a national panel of 30 toxicologists, including Dr. Smock, update the system every 90 days. A complete new set of microfiche, containing all new data, is sent out to each of the 400 nationwide users quarterly.

The Poisindex System presented to St. Mary Hospital by Detroit Bank-Livonia as a community service, is located in the emergency room adjacent to a telephone with the special poison emergency telephone number. Special communication procedures between the hospital and the Livonia Police and Fire departments have been established for use by the departments in emergency situations.

Communication procedures that will link the remainder of the hospital with the emergency room are underway, and the training of hospital personnel other than those persons on permanent assignment in the emergency room facility are proceeding.

According to Sr. Mary Calasanta, president of St. Mary Hospital, "Poisindex has more than proved its worth and effectiveness."

"It has been referred to on numerous occasions and has been instrumental in identifying poisonous substances as well as approaches which should be utilized to treat persons who have been poisoned by them," she added. "We believe that the addition of the Poisindex to our emergency room will help render a valuable service to the communities we serve."

Residents with questions about possible poisonings or drug overdoses can contact the Poisindex unit at St. Mary's by dialing 464-4444.

Sewer 'showdown' being pushed?

"On both occasions, the arrangement was never changed," Gollwitzer said. "So in the eyes of the road commission, Van Buren only owns a certain capacity in terms of the sewage flow through the system."

"We maintain that we own that percent of the total capacity of the system which our funds helped build."

The difference in capacities could be as much as 35 percent, with Van Buren originally "contracting" for a capacity of approximately 5 cubic feet per second while the ability of the treatment plant to handle sewage has increased to the extent that Van Buren's "share" of the capacity is between 7.5 and 8-cubic feet per second.

Presently the community's volume "share" of the plant's treatment capacity is sufficient to handle Van Buren's needs. But the township board has directed Gollwitzer to hold out on signing the agreement allowing Riverview to join the downriver system to prepare for the future.

"We could end up with needing more than the township's present capacity in the plant, and having to 'buy' that extra capacity from an increase in capacity which our funds helped build over the years," Gollwitzer said. "In effect, we'd be paying twice for the same service."

Invited to this week's meeting in Romulus besides Van Buren Township, Romulus and Riverview, are Belleville, Taylor, Dearborn Heights, Southgate, Allen Park, Lincoln Park, Ecorse, River Rouge, Wyandotte, and Brownstown Township.

"We've contacted everyone involved in the system by letter, and expect a good turn-out," Gollwitzer said. "Maybe we can begin to get something settled, and also inform Riverview that Van Buren's problem with allowing the community to enter isn't anything personal, but is really part of a battle with the operators of the system."

Sheriff's officers nab armed robbery suspect

Romulus residents and businesses are victims of crime, just as are the residents and businesses in Detroit.

But, according to a release from the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, the perpetrators of crime may end up "paying" more for their wrongdoings in Romulus.

Quick and resourceful action by four road patrol officers — is being credited with nabbing an alleged armed robber within minutes of the alleged theft of $135 from the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant near Wayne Road and I-94.

Kenneth Lee Brooks, 18, of Sumpter Township, was captured on Aug. 18 by Lt. William Harris and Patrolman LeRoy Pendergrass when the two elected to observe "the most likely escape route" of the alleged robber of the restaurant.

According to the report, a lone, black male, ordered restaurant workers Penny Carter, 18, and Loretta Vickerman, 16, to empty the cash register after brandishing a blue steel handgun.

After the robber left at about 10 p.m., Patrolmen Gary Lehman and James Leverette went to the scene of the crime and broadcast a description of the suspect as reconstructed from interviews of the two store workers.

The two officers, parked at the side of the road along the escape route, stopped a car suspiciously speeding away from the scene of the crime with the lights out and used the descriptions broadcast by their counterparts at the restaurant to identify Brooks as a suspect.

A search of the car revealed a blue steel handgun and a bag of cash.

Brooks has been arraigned on charges of armed robbery and remanded to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond.

Adult ed classes to begin

School tax-financed adult education classes in the Romulus School District are scheduled to begin Sept. 13 at the Romulus High School.

The classes are being offered to adults who have not received a high school diploma, or who may want to enrich their knowledge in their free time.

According to William Smith, community school director, most adults can obtain a diploma because they have earned credit for schooling for experience in the military service, on the job, volunteer programs and training programs not traditionally associated with high school.

In addition, adults may have an easier time in continuing their high school education because many can receive financial aid from the Veterans Administration (VA).

Romulus is a VA approved institution of learning, and can aid those enrolled in the adult education program in filing forms which will make them eligible for up to several hundred dollars in benefits each semester during their schooling.

Registration for the program will run from Sept. 1-10 at the Romulus Board of Education offices, 35540 Grant Road, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Registration also will continue at night during the Sept. 1-10 period at the Romulus High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road, between 7-9 p.m.

In addition to the adult high school education program, Smith said other programs, including the adult hobby classes, senior citizen programs and the Head Start program for youngsters aged 4-years-old, are scheduled to begin at the end of September.

Information on all the programs can be obtained by calling the Romulus Board of Education community education program at 941-1600.

In addition, a brochure describing the community education program will be mailed to area residents during the first week of September.

Gov. William G. Milliken has climbed on the "continuing education bandwagon" by proclaiming Aug. 29-Sept. 4 "Adult and Community Education Week" in Michigan.

In naming the week, Milliken said, "Michigan is a leader among the states in the variety and quality of the educational services provided to its adult citizens."

"Adult and Community education programs in the state are dedicated to the service of all people, and to the proposition that a person will strive to realize his full potential as an individual throughout his entire life, if given the proper encouragement, opportunity and resources."

"I urge all citizens to give appropriate recognition to the important contributions which adult and community education leaders and programs have made to our state, and to personally engage whenever possible, in these

Currently, some 750,000 Michigan residents have not completed elementary school, and another 1.25 million have not completed high school.

An additional 750,000 people require upgraded skills for their careers.

Because of the need for education by nearly 3 million Michigan residents, Milliken said, "The efforts of community education and adult education programs are of benefit to the individual, to the community, to the state and to the society."

"I urge residents to personally engage whenever possible, in these programs and activities."

Witnesses attend rally

The Belleville Congregation of the Jehovah's Witnesses cancelled all local activities last weekend to enable members to attend a 2-day regional meeting in Detroit.

According to Albert Pringle of Hamilton Street, Van Buren Township, the Witnesses were exhorted to "become doers of the Word", a theme found in the Bible book of James.

Pringle, an elder with the Belleville Congregation, served as chairman of the Sunday program, which stressed the need for Christians to have an "active faith" characterized by vigorous preaching and disciple making.

More than 1,131 persons were on hand Sunday to hear H.R. Huckaby, the district overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses in Southeastern Michigan, give the discourse "Are You Doing what God Requires of You?"

Huckaby, an ordained minister since 1952, has traveled extensively in the Midwest on special assignment since leaving Santa Paula, Calif., more than 20 years ago. His wife, Irene, who travels with him, also is a native Californian.

Schweisberg to head staff of Alma's Record-Leader

David R. Schweisberg has been appointed editor of The Alma Daily Record-Leader. The appointment is effective immediately.

Schweisberg will direct all news and editorial operations of the newspaper, reporting directly to General Manager Zane Fox.

Fox made the announcement jointly with Martin Heim, former Daily Record-Leader general manager and now group vice-president of Panax Newspapers, publisher of The Daily Record-Leader.

Heim said the appointment of Schweisberg, "completes the initial phase of Panax management reorganization at The Daily Record-Leader, a reorganization designed to further improve and expand the newspaper's coverage and service to the people of Gratiot County."

"We feel we are most fortunate to obtain the services and talents of a newspaperman like Dave Schweisberg," Fox said. "His background, previous experience and, most importantly, his enthusiasm for and dedication to the journalism profession all will contribute to the improvement plans we have for the paper."

Schweisberg, who is single and lists scuba diving and baseball umpiring among his other talents, left the staff of the Suffolk Life newspaper group on Long Island to join the Daily Record-Leader staff. There he specialized in local government reporting. Prior to that assignment he was on the staff variously of the Newton, Mass., Times, a Boston suburb, and worked part time for the Associated Press. During his AP tenure Schweisberg participated in coverage of the school busing controversy and violence in Boston.

A graduate of Boston University, magna cum laude, the new editor also was a reporter, then feature editor and finally managing editor of the 17,500 circulation college daily newspaper, the Daily Free Press. Schweisberg will reside in St. Louis, Mich.

In addition to The Daily Record-

Leader Panax publishes five other Michigan daily newspapers and 23 weekly newspapers, mostly in the Detroit area.

Better coverage with 'teamwork'

By BOB COCHRANE
Editor of The Enterprise-Roman

No newspaper editor enjoys receiving complaints from readers stating that their community newspaper doesn't carry enough local news.

Many times such complaints emanate from disgruntled readers who are upset because a particular story didn't get in the paper or because the article had to be trimmed due to space commitments. So these type of complaints really have no bearing on the overall coverage of a community's news happenings.

However, over the past year I have been made acutely aware of a steady flow of complaints of inadequate newspaper coverage in Belleville and Romulus through circulation department spot checks, letters, telephone calls and residents' personal visits to my office.

This distresses me because every newspaper editor likes to feel his paper is providing the best possible coverage of local activities.

I have a confession. We have fallen down on the job in Belleville and Romulus. You may be surprised to hear an editor make an admission like that. But the truth is coverage could be better.

However, as a way of explanation I would like Belleville and Romulus readers to understand that our apparent failure to properly collect and disseminate news of your communities does not mean we aren't trying. We honestly are making an effort, but our labors are being thwarted by a very serious dilemma: We simply do not have enough personnel to assign to your communities and scratch for the news people want to read. So occasionally we may miss something. But that's not the only problem. For some reason fewer people nowadays are volunteering information for use in our news columns. The phrase "no news is good news" may apply in some instances but not when it comes to putting out a newspaper.

We have one reporter to cover three governmental units and two school districts in the Belleville and Romulus areas, in addition to digging out and writing the miscellaneous news that is the backbone of every community newspaper.

The answer to this situation obviously is to hire more reporters. I wish it were that simple. But to be frank, our budget does not permit that luxury at the moment.

Like many other businesses staggering under the inflationary demands of our economy, we've had to make personnel cuts, and doing so has hampered our ability to function at or near the level we achieved several years ago.

But this is only a temporary situation (we hope) and are looking to the day we can beef up our editorial staff.

In the meantime, there is something that can be done to help boost the type of coverage Belleville and Romulus residents deserve. You can have all the reporters in the world but a community newspaper like the Enterprise and the Roman is only as good as the residents of that community want it to be. That is where you, the reader, come in. And that leads me to a request, but it's a simple plea. We could use your help, your cooperation. Just tell us what's happening and we'll make every effort to print it. Unless you call us or drop us a line, in all probability we could miss the story.

If a new business is moving into the area let us know. If the amateur gardener down the block just weighed a watermelon he grew and it broke the scales, we definitely would be interested in that. If your service club is holding a picnic or donating a check to charity or a hundred other things, just pick up the phone. Of if Aunt Mazie has an unusual hobby or Uncle Fred saw a rarer than rare bird, that's news, too!

In short, what I am suggesting is a sort of "team" — you and us working together to make the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman the best community newspapers around.

If you're wondering how we can do all this with only one reporter, don't concern yourself. My typewriter isn't totally committed to just editorials and columns.

Over sports

Education takes priority

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

'My thought is, if the athlete is so stupid that he believes stealing an automobile is what he should do in his free time, then let him swipe the car and throw him in jail.'

The crusade of Detroit's business and sports leaders to ensure that the city has a high school sports program this year, despite the defeat of a 5-mill tax increase, is a typical by-product of the attitude that school isn't designed for education but for "opportunity."

The move to fund a sports program, capped last week by a bill to be introduced in the Michigan State Legislature to "advance" Detroit $500,000 in state aid for financing a full sports program, proves that many people, business leaders as well as sports figures, do not understand the true meaning of education.

While the worry is to finance competition ostensibly in the hope of garnering a few sports scholarships to further the education of game participants, the guts of the education system is being ignored.

No Detroit Tiger has stepped forward to propose a fundraiser for books in schools—books which cannot be purchased due to the defeat of the millage. No business leader has offered to donate funds to help finance an increase in vocational education, music or art programs to further the culture and job skills of students.

Instead, the proposal is to put money up front to purchase shoulder pads and basketballs to ensure that competition survives in the Public School League.

One rationale is that the competition will keep trouble-makers off the streets.

One football coach even said that he knows personally of a running back who will go back to stealing cars if he isn't allowed his share of the gridiron glory this year.

My thought is, if the athlete is so stupid that he believes stealing an automobile is what he should do in his free time, then let him swipe the car and throw him in jail.

There are rehabilitation programs in prison.

It isn't that I don't want to give a kid a chance. It's more a frustration on my part with the attitude toward education displayed by many leaders that the school system is little more than a vehicle to "humor" youth and keep them off the streets at least nine months during the year.

What happens to the star halfback and car thief when the 12-week football season is over?

Are we spared his auto-stealing habits for that short time—in effect delaying his pursuit of crime.

It's my opinion that money forwarded for a football program is much better spent on books, to give students who may want to study a chance to improve themselves intellectually, than it is to teach someone "teamwork" and "discipline" which is learned on the playing field.

For every athlete who is served by a sports program, there are 10 students in the school being deprived of books. Oh, they'll have a chance to watch a game for an hour each Friday, and that will keep them out of trouble during that time, but they won't have the opportunity to study from that badly needed book for five hours each week.

Combine that with the fact that scholarships for athletes to get into college are far outnumbered by those available to students for academic achievement, and the problem is increased.

I'm not a prude who never participated in sports.

I played and enjoyed them. But, my schooling wouldn't have been that deficient had I been out of the sports scene.

For two years in high school I was out of the "sports thing" and didn't miss a step in learning—and growing.

And for four years in college I didn't participate in any sports program.

But my education and move toward the "real world" outside the halls of learning wasn't harmed by a lack of physical competition during my school days.

I learned to compete, if need be, on an intellectual level—just as 99.9 percent of the people in this country must.

It didn't come from learning how to make the perfect hook shot or how to pull from the left guard's slot to lead a sweep with machine-like precision.

My training came from an educational system which forced me to become curious, and ask the question "Why?" often enough that I was forced to search for an answer — and learn in the process.

All I missed was the "extra-curricular" thrill of throwing the perfect block, or learning the perfect slider.

I didn't pay my tuition to learn those things—thus they are classified "extra curricular."

And likewise, I don't particularly want to pay my Detroit taxes or make any donations to ensure that others are granted their opportunities to throw a block.

For every Willie Horton who hits the $100,000 mark in big-league sports, there are 10 Marvin Lanes who will never get out of the minor leagues.

And for every Marvin Lane who's being paid by the minor leagues to perform in sports, there are hundreds of Bill Smiths who must work on an assembly line or in an office because they aren't gifted with enough physical talent even to make it to the minor leagues.

They'll miss far more in the future if they aren't given the opportunity to learn during their years in school than if they're deprived of their chance to "compete" on an organized level.

Deprived of a chance to "compete" they may turn flabby of body a few years earlier.

But deprived of the chance to "learn" they'll be flabby of mind for the rest of their lives.

As we see it

State's wetlands are threatened

Many of Michigan's most valuable wetlands are going to be destroyed. Drainage of marshes and other water areas is eagerly sought by developers who plan to subdivide them. The cost will be paid by you, the taxpayer. Your lawmaker in Lansing is now in the process of seeing that this is done.

All of the above things will happen if you fail to let your state representatives and state senator in Lansing know that you are opposed to it. If you don't, look for higher property taxes and the loss of wetlands which produce countless numbers of waterfowl, song birds and other wildlife. Of more importance, the same marshes and bogs and shallow ponds serve as storage areas for water, which percolates down into the soil and feeds countless wells and springs that become our creeks and rivers. All are threatened.

In question are two bills, HB-6306 and SB-1484. Identical bills, they sound innocent enough as an amendment to Michigan's Health Code. The Department of Public Health strongly supports the twin bills. If the measure becomes law it would allow creation of a Mosquito Abatement District (MAD) anywhere in Michigan. MADs would be able to set up service charges and special assessments without a popular vote.

Naturally, the idea of MAD will make you mad, too. Here is what it is really all about:

Last year, 64 people in Michigan contracted St. Louis encephalitis, a disease carried by mosquitoes. Two of them died. While unfortunate, it should be kept in mind that two deaths out of about 9 million state residents is not much of a percentage. Commonly called "sleeping sickness," the disease is usually no more bothersome than mild flu.

Mosquitoes, of course, thrive in quiet water, particularly in marshes, small ponds and slow stream backwaters. A MAD could be set up in any part of Michigan where such a condition occurs, a new, local group of bureaucrats would be put in charge and these wetlands would be drained. To finance the project in each area, governmental hands would go into your pocket. That, of course, is a situation much more bothersome than the thought of slapping a few pesky mosquitoes on occasion.

The wetlands to be drained would be mostly private ones and for this reason, developers are waiting eagerly. With water removed, it is a simple matter to do a little filling and have some often-choice building lots to sell. Your MAD money would therefore be providing windfall profits for developers who are presently thwarted by law from draining and filling these same areas.

State representatives are all up for reelection in November so they are very sensitive to the desires of the home folks who determine their future. State senators have two more years to go in their terms but they listen when voters speak, too.

If the idea of MAD makes you really mad, drop a note to your Lansing lawmakers and let them know what you think about HB-6306 and SB-1484. Don't depend on others to do it for you!

On the brighter side

Could dream come true?

By JIM BRADLEY
Pastor, Fair Haven Baptist Church

LAST NIGHT I fell asleep and had a dream.

I dreamed many things. And the dream was so real, so vivid it seemed like it really happened. But the funny part is that the many things I dreamed about were so unrelated. Or were they?

First, I dreamed that a great silence covered the entire earth. No machine guns shattered the quietness; no bombs blowing huge caverns of destruction into buildings or hillside.

Nation wasn't rising against nation, swords had been beaten into plowshares and peace had become more than a prayerful dream...

...Slowly the scene changed and I dreamed that blacks and whites didn't hate each other anymore. They walked life's road together, not trying to be submerged into some homogeneous mixture, but accepting each other as they were.

Both proud of what they were, thankful for how God had created them to work together, much like different instruments combining in a great symphony of love. Each playing his part, and the melody was beautiful.

I dreamed I walked the darkened streets of Detroit past midnight without fear. Black teenagers smiled and said hello. Residents didn't have to peer out from behind drawn curtains. Enough policeman were on duty to protect the city.

...I dreamed I visited labor negotiations between a score of union and management representatives. A selfish spirit had melted away and in its place was one of love and understanding. The unions' "get all we can" attitude was replaced with "what is best for all our citizens, pensions and elderly alike." Management's theory of "give as little as possible" yielded to "do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

A true spirit of love and concern pervaded every negotiation and reporters were startled by a quick easy settlements and contentment on all sides.

...I dreamed school teachers and school boards tried honestly to work together for the good of the children and they came to easy, quick agreement. Every school started on time in September. A full slate of sports and every other extra-curricular activity was in full swing. Harmony and love prevailed between parents, teachers and school administrators.

School yards and parking lots were clean of beer cans and other trash thrown by thoughtless youths...Young teenagers weren't sprawled all over the front lawns puffing on cigarettes and students were dressed other than for ditch-digging chores...As my dream continued, I was transported to Westland City Hall for a council meeting. The councilmen and audience were polite and the meeting ended early. The usual 4-3 division of councilmen was gone and unity prevailed. A new cooperation was begun, they said, that would put the interests of the citizens first.

I dreamed Mayor Tom Taylor and Councilwoman Gail McKnight shook hands and pledged cooperation...

...I dreamed that Westland residents had no questions about the two men running for district judge...

...I dreamed the City of Wayne completed its downtown development with a large hotel and convention center...

...I dreamed every church was packed to capacity and ushers had to set out extra chairs. Ministers, startled by the turnout, preached the Bible strongly and thousands trusted Christ as their saviour. Many churches dropped unspiritual sidelines and concentrated on man's relationship to God and his fellow man...

...I dreamed that all newspapers faithfully covered the news and reported it accurately without slant or bias. Reporters didn't feel they needed "four-letter" words for emphasis. And all political candidates were given equally fair treatment by the press...

...Last night I dreamed all these things and many others I can't remember. They seemed so vivid and real, just like they actually happened. But then my dream had a sad ending.

I woke up.

As Panax sees it

Black preachers 'paid off' by Carter

WASHINGTON — Well, well, well. It wasn't just the Old Time Religion that had those black preachers smiling and shuffling into Jimmy Carter's revival tent. There was some of the old-time boodle as well — "extra incentives" for the Men of God to rise in their pulpits and call down De Lawd's blessing on the endeavor of our Christian brother, Mr. Jimmy.

The Carter Boys have been caught red-handed, transplanting a time-honored southern political tradition right into the politics of sunny California. In the primary at least $5,000 was doled out to four black preachers, to be distributed in packets of $25 and $50 to parsons and preachers to say kind things about Mr. Jimmy Sunday morning before primary day.

Declared the Reverend J.L. Richards of Oakland: "When a preacher stands up in his church and talks about Jimmy Carter, he's working for Jimmy Carter as far as I'm concerned and he should be paid for it." Amen, Brother Richards.

Down at the farm the Carter Boys are yukking it up. Said campaign manager Paul Hemman: "I guess when Jimmy stood in Maryland and said, 'I don't intend to deal with political hacks,' he was talking about not dealing with white hacks, not black ones."

Carter's press secretary says Hemman's crack was "made in jest." But Mr. Jimmy himself says that some $450,000 may have been paid out in "undocumented" campaign expenses.

If so, an investigation by a Watergate-type, independent special prosecutor is warranted to "restore confidence in the system" — as my Democratic friends like to say. Let's hear none of this

"everybody does it."

The biggest surprise here, however, is that the ministers sold out so cheap. Twenty-five or even 50 bucks a sermon is chicken feed when you consider what Mr. Jimmy has promised the white power structure for its support.

Ralph Nader, a power-hungry St. Francis of the consumer movement, has gotten a commitment that Jimmy's appointments to the regulatory agencies will meet with his approval ("Clear it with Ralph"), which is another name for a federal office which would provide Ralph's best friends with U.S. jobs, parks and power. Ralph is apparently weary of having to shake down the big tax-exempt liberal foundations like Ford. He and his friends want a more secure future — guaranteed by the U.S. taxpayer.

George Meany and Big Labor got a Carter guarantee to collaborate in overturning right-to-work laws in 20 states, thereby forcing millions of workers into Meany's unions where they will have to fork over tens of millions of dollars in dues, or lose their jobs.

But the education lobby made out best. For years, this hundred-billion-dollar industry has been demanding that the U.S. Treasury — i.e., the U.S. taxpayer — elevate its contribution from 10 percent of the cost of public education to 33 percent. Some weeks back, Mr. Carter called this a "good goal." Reaching that goal will require a net transfer from U.S. citizens of $18 to $20 billion into "education." By making that pledge, however, Mr. Carter purchased the campaign support of textbook manufacturers, the National Education Association and almost every teachers' union in the country.

By PATRICK J. BUCHANAN
New York Times News Service

The Democratic platform of 1976 represents an endless string of corrupt bargains to benefit Carter's campaign at the expense of the American taxpayers.

The mayors were bought with a promise of "countercyclical" aid. Translated, that means that when the economy headed into rough weather, U.S. taxpayers will shell out billions to city politicians so that Democratic mayors will not be forced to lay off the municipal employees and patronage hacks put on the city payroll when times were good.

Clearly, the black ministers sold out cheap. Well, they will have another crack at it come the fall campaign. And they should get in while the getting is good. Everyone else is.

American blacks — and the big lie

WASHINGTON — "The Republican Party," asserted Paul Weyrich, executive director of the Committee for the Survival of a Free Congress (CSFC), "must respond to the desires of the people. It must oppose busing flatly, and stand for the neighborhood school, local control of those schools."

Weyrich is a sophisticated political conservative activist, a white, middle-class Catholic who is appalled at the Supreme Court abortion decision, and equally appalled at how busing and other social issues are subject to equivocation by both political parties.

"The Republican Party should draw the line clearly," he urges, "in the defense of the family and its values. That means it should defend the right to life, oppose the equal rights amendment, expel the federal government from its role in the design of elementary and secondary school curricula intended to undermine the family and the Judeo-Christian ethic on which our society is based, stop forced busing, eradicate child development legislation. The Republican Party must defend the family structure, and the right of the individual to live his own life."

Weyrich is actively involved with "The Right to Life Movement" and works with medical Dr. Mildred Jefferson of Boston. She is a beautiful and intelligent woman, who also is black. When she appeared on national TV recently liberals and feminists were appalled that she was not on their side. Stereotyping Dr. Jefferson robbed her of the most precious personal possession, the right to be regarded as an individual — unique intelligent, and talented, not because she is a black who is a social conservative. However, Dr. Jefferson was dismissed as a "freak" by the liberal media.

Now another "freak" has come out of the political closet. Thomas Sowell is a handsome, open-faced fellow at the Center for Advanced Study in Behavioral Sciences at Stanford, California, and the author of "Race and Economics." Two days before Weyrich testified before the Republican Platform Committee, Sowell had published in the New York Times, on August 8, a remarkable article titled "A Black Conservative Dissents — busing and affirmative action may be pet crusades for orthodox liberals, but a black scholar contends neither in fact does much good."

"Being a black 'conservative' is perhaps not considered as bizarre as being a transvestite," he wrote, "but it's certainly considered more strange than being a vegetarian or a bird watcher. Recently a network television program contacted me because they had an episode with one of the characters a black conservative, and they wanted me to come down to the studio so their writers and actors could observe such an exotic being in the flesh."

Sowell then goes on to demolish the "liberal orthodoxy" that promotes busing and affirmative action which, he contends, has failed — but liberals still cling to these tyrannical devices. "Most black people oppose busing," Sowell flatly states. "Polls that showed a black majority in favor of busing a few years ago have begun to show black pluralities, and, finally, an absolute majority against busing. What is rare is to see any black opponent of busing in the media."

Sowell cites a series of surveys to show that black college students are conservative, that a great majority of blacks believe in defending their country against foreign enemies, reject violence to achieve social change. "A Gallup poll found," he adds, "that a substantial majority of blacks regard the courts as too lenient on criminals. Still another survey found that more than three-quarters of the blacks describe themselves as 'sick and tired' of hearing attacks on 'traditional American values.'"

"So, being a 'black' conservative is not as distinctive as it seems." What Sowell illuminates is the stereotyping and big lie against most American blacks, as bad or

It's salary-setting time in Lansing

By BOB BERG
Panax Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — The once-every-two-year question of how much money we ought to pay our legislators has surfaced at its scheduled time.

The State Officers' Compensation Commission, a seven-member group assigned the duty of answering the question, has begun its biennial deliberations.

The commission actually sets salary levels for the governor, lieutenant governor, supreme court and members of the legislature. It is the legislative salaries, however, which grab the lion's share of the attention.

Lawmakers are more unhappy now about their pay than they've been in years. They make $19,000 per year now, a total which buys considerably less due to inflation than the $17,000 salary they started drawing in 1971.

In the intervening time, they have been confronted with a tight-fisted commission which gave them no raise in 1972 and a $2,000 per year raise in 1974. The commission tried to cut $850 out of that 1974 raise because of adjustments lawmakers had made in their pension set-up, but the courts said it couldn't do that.

There are seven new members on the commission this year, however, and the lawmakers are hopeful they'll get what they consider to be a fairer hearing.

The newly elected chairman, Mike Jones of St. Joseph, says he intends to be open minded about the whole thing. "I want to reserve any judgments until after we get all the facts," he said. "We will weigh all the factors before we make any decisions."

Jones and other commission members already have been contacted by legislators who, he diplomatically says "have indicated they do feel their salary has not increased with the cost of living."

Only one lawmaker, he says, has indicated he's satisfied with the current pay. That's Sen. Charles Zollar (R-Benton Harbor). Zollar, however, is independently wealthy.

At the moment, Michigan legislators rank fourth in annual salary levels, exceeded by New York ($23,500), California ($21,120) and Illinois ($20,000). Some other states add in fringe benefits not reflected in salary, however. For instance, California provides an automobile for its lawmakers.

The public debate on the whole thing tends to be more emotional than rational. Salary is a very personal thing, and frustrated citizens can point to it as a very clear cut, and very effective way of "getting back" at lawmakers. Its cost to the state is negligible, in terms of a state budget well in excess of $3 billion.

But it represents a very specific way for taxpayers to voice dissatisfaction, much the same as millage elections.

An old truism around here is that some legislators are worth twice what they're paid and some are worth less than half. The problem is that everyone is paid the same, with no union rates set to differentiate seniority, ability or hours on the job. There is little doubt people in leadership posts are underpaid and could make much more elsewhere. There is also little doubt some others couldn't make nearly as much on the outside — it's been proven when some have been kicked out of office.

The commission's job is to try to calmly look at the facts and come up with a reasonable solution knowing all along that whatever it does, a lot of people will be mad.

Smith calls for drain commission audit

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-26th District) has called for a state audit of the Wayne County Revolving Drain Fund, following recent allegations that the money has been misused.

Several county communities have filed suit against the Wayne County drain commissioner and other county officials, claiming that the commissioner has been "improperly and illegally" using money from the fund to pay the administrative costs of his office.

Smith, in a resolution introduced at last week's meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, urged the full board to formally request that the state auditor general audit the fund. The board gave the resolution immediate and unanimous approval.

"An independent audit is an absolute necessity, both in defending this lawsuit and in preparing next year's county budget," Smith said.

Several townships have claimed that money which can only be used for drain cleaning and maintenance is being shifted into administrative accounts, the commissioner added.

According to state law, all administrative costs are to be paid by the county's general fund.

"These are serious allegations, and I feel it is imperative that we have an outside agency that is not involved in the lawsuit conduct an official audit of the drain commissioner's books," Smith continued. "Even if we didn't have to defend this matter in the courts, it would be beneficial to have an outside analysis of what's being collected and spent on county drains.

"I still feel that Western Wayne County assessments are excessive and I am determined to check into why the charges are so high."

Smith added that county officials need to carefully examine the charges that "assessments levied in certain drainage districts do not reflect the actual work performed".

Gals' softball teams ready for play-offs

Play-offs in the Romulus Ladies Softball League started Friday at Romulus' Elmer Johnson Park.

The "Odd Squad" with a 13-1 record, played against the "Young Pioneers", also with a 13-1 record, in an east versus west play-off.

Winner of the match-up will play against the play-off champ in a best of three game series for the city championship this week.

The softball league is co-sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees and the Romulus Recreation Department.

Three members of the Jaycees — Rich Zavodsky, Jim Swiecki and Tom Von Glahn — serve with Madge Ayers and Diane Summerfield as the board of directors for the league with Marie DeBuysscher, recreation director, serving as the city representative to the league.

Following this week's play-off series, the Romulus Ladies Softball League is planning its fourth annual banquet, scheduled for Sept. 11 at the Romulus Progressive Club.

Auto Club donates school safety items

Automobile Club of Michigan is making a $53,000 public service contribution toward the safety of Michigan's 1.4 million elementary school-age pedestrians and bicycle riders who start a new school year next month.

This is the 57th straight year Auto Club has been equipping safety patrolmen in Michigan schools.

"Boxes containing more than 1,400 safety patrol belts and nearly 1,100 ponchos are being distributed to school districts throughout Michigan," said Arthur C. Gibson, Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department manager. "The materials are being distributed now so the nearly 63,000 Auto Club-sponsored safety patrolmen can be fully equipped by the start of the school year."

"Most Michigan schools open Sept. 8 and the 1.4 million youngsters who will be walking or riding bicycles to and from schools place a direct responsibility for alertness and vigilance on state motorists."

Approximately 159,000 children will be on the streets for the first time as they start kindergarten classes.

Auto Club statistics show that 2,280 school-age children — ages 5 to 14 — were injured in Michigan traffic accidents last year while crossing streets or riding bicycles, a 7 percent drop from the 2,457 hurt in 1974.

Fatalities involving young pedestrians and bicycle riders also dropped from 37 in 1974 to 29 last year.

"Despite this decline in death and injuries, these statistics still point to an urgent need for increased caution by Michigan motorists," Gibson said.

The Auto Club official pointed out that traffic accidents involving school-age pedestrians and cyclists are usually the result of motorists driving too fast in residential areas and of children entering the street between parked cars or crossing in mid-block.

Auto Club suggests that parents advise their children of the safest route to and from school and offers these guidelines:

— Follow rules set by schools as to safest routes for children to travel.

— Cooperate fully with safety patrolmen and adult crossing guards.

— Instruct children to come directly home from school before visiting friends.

— Accompany kindergarten-age youngsters to and from school for the first few days to help them learn the safest route and how to follow it.

— Auto Club also advises parents to instruct their children not to accept rides from strangers.

MR. AND MRS. JIM SHOVER

Couple reserve St. Luke's for candlelight wedding

Candlelight set the mood for the recent marriage of Regina May and Jim Shover, both of Belleville. For the 4 p.m. rite, the altar was appointed with two gold vases holding arrangements of yellow gadiolas and snapdragons and white spider mums and carnations.

Some 250 guests assembled at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Ypsilanti for the double ring nuptials which united the daughter of Mrs. Betty Duford of 12894 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville, and Clayton May of Osceola, Ark. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bontekoe of 49505 Bog Rd., Belleville.

The Rev. Sidney S. Rood presided. Pipe organ music played by Alice Vanwambeke included "The Theme from Love Story."

Escorted to the altar by her oldest brother, Chuck May of Taylor, the bride appeared in a toe-touching gown of white guipure lace designed with a high illusion neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The princess lines of the skirt featured an Austrian pouf shirred hemline accented with cabbage roses and a pleated flounce which also edged the cathedral length train.

Her mantilla veil of nylon illusion drifted to chapel length from a snug-fitting Chantilly lace cap which matched the lace border on her veil. Completing her ensemble was a bouquet of yellow roses and baker leaves with yellow sweetheart roses cascading down the front.

The bridegroom's sister, Lisa Renee Shover of Belleville, wore a mint green dotted swiss frock for her role as maid of honor. White venice lace was used to trim the v-neckline, short puffed sleeves and flounce at the hem while a mint green satin ribbon added interest at the waistline.

Her matching picture hat also had a satin bow and streamers and her modernized colonial bouquet was comprised of white carnations tipped in yellow and mint green.

Bridesmaids in identical yellow dotted swiss gowns were Pegi Heiss of Ypsilanti; Cindy Hudge and Becky Dappricy of Belleville, and Mary Gaffney of Ypsilanti.

Five-year old Kelly Powers wore a miniature version of the honor attendant's outfit for her role as flowergirl. The white wicker basket she carried was filled with yellow roses, white carnations, spider mums and baby's breath. Timothy May, the bride's 6-year-old nephew, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

The bridegroom asked Kevin Scot Woods of Ypsilanti to be best man. Groomsmen were Sid Stevens of Ypsilanti; Joe Bies of Willis; Leonard Bontekoe of Ypsilanti, the bridegroom's step-brother, and John Bokon of Belleville. Another step-brother, Larry Bontekoe of Ypsilanti, and Brian Clearwater were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Duford donned a long brown and beige chiffon gown with a short chiffon cape. Her corsage was of yellow sweetheart roses. Mrs. Bontekoe chose to wear a blue chiffon gown with an attached chiffon cape imprinted with pink flowers. Pink sweetheart roses were used to fashion her corsage.

Following a reception in the Romulus VFW Hall, the newlyweds departed for a 10-day honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania. While the bridegroom is completing work on the couple's new home, they are residing at 12894 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Shover, who will be in her senior year at Lincoln High School this fall, is a beauty consultant for Beauti Control. Her husband graduated in 1974 from Huron High School in Huron, Ohio and currently works as a truck driver for L. B. Sod of Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the Bontekoes at their Bog Road home.

Service, picnic being staged for the elderly and disabled

The parish grounds of St. Aloysius Church will be the site of an outdoor interdenominational service and picnic social, to be staged by the Helping Hand Thrift Shop for the elderly and disabled living in Western Wayne County.

According to Florence Klein, director of the Thrift Shop, the gathering is "to show our love and concern for others."

The interdenominational church service will begin at 12 p.m. Aug. 28 and will be followed by the social. According to Mrs. Klein, chairs will be set up behind the church, located at 11280 Ozga Road, Romulus, with space left clear for those in wheelchairs. Area also will be set aside for those participants who wish to remain in their cars.

A folk group from St. Aloysius Parish will perform during the service, and Mrs. Klein hopes to have several other musical groups involved in the rite.

Following the picnic, the Romulus Bicentennial Choir will be presenting a musical interlude for the picnickers.

"How long has it been since you took your elderly or disabled neighbor or relative on an outing?" Mrs. Klein asked. "Imagine how happy they would be to be asked to take part in this community church service and picnic."

Mrs. Klein added that there will be no steps for participants to climb and that communion will be brought to those who remain seated.

Mrs. Klein continued: "If you have no one to bring, won't you take the time and bring one of the less fortunate who has no one to transport them there. Wouldn't you like to pack a nice picnic lunch and surprise them? Let's really give them something to remember."

During the picnic, the shop will be serving hot coffee and cookies.

Mrs. Klein hopes to reach not only the elderly residents of the area, but also the disabled, chronic shut-ins and residents of convalescent and nursing homes. She also is urging churches with buses to consider transporting groups of participants to the church grounds for the afternoon affair.

Those persons wishing further information about the church service and picnic can contact Mrs. Klein at the Helping Hand Thrift Shop, or by calling 941-5323.

At Baptist church

Boyd-Andrews repeat vows

Two Romulus High School graduates, Rowena Yvonne Andrews and Robert Boyd Bennett, exchanged double ring vows recently in a 6:30 p.m. summer wedding at Calvary Baptist Church in Wayne.

Dr. Weldon Spracklen presided at the ceremony before some 150 assembled relatives and friends. Two bouquets of gladiolas graced the sanctuary for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Andrews of 31647 Ecorse Rd., Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bennett of 31234 Beverly Rd., Romulus, are parents of the young couple.

An arrangement of white carnations and yellow roses was carried by the bride who was given in marriage by her father. Her Chantilly lace gown was styled with a high scalloped neckline and long sleeves on a little fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt was comprised of wide tiers of lace.

Her lace-banded veil was caught to a small lace Camelot cap to complete her bridal finery.

Maid of honor was Laurie Smith of Romulus who donned a yellow gown and carried a bouquet of white mums, yellow strawflowers and baby's breath. The bride's sister-in-law, Kim Andrews of Taylor, and her cousin, Denise Hollis of Westland, wore A-line gowns in pink and mint green, respectively, for their roles as bridesmaids.

Eddie Bennett of Romulus was his brother's best man with Robert Andrews of Taylor, the bride's brother, and Sherman Youtsey of Romulus serving as ushers.

At the reception which followed at the Romulus Progressive Club, the bride's mother greeted guests in a beige floral print gown to which she pinned her corsage of white carnations and pink baby roses. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Boyd chose a yellow, green and orange print formal gown. Her corsage contained white carnations and yellow baby roses.

The bridegroom is employed at Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors at Willow Run.

Queen sought for antique show

The third annual Ms. Detroit Antique Show Queen Pageant is slated for 12 noon Sept. 13 at Kennedy Square in downtown Detroit. The queen will reign over the 5-day Detroit Antique and Collectors Show-Sale Sept. 15-19 in the Light Guard Armory on E. Eight Mile Road.

The only requirement for contestants is that they be at least 50 years "young."

In addition to her crown, the queen will be showered with a variety of gifts and prizes. Runners-up also will be awarded prizes and each participant in the contest will receive a special gift.

Local celebrities will be on hand to evaluate the entrants poise and personality and to select the winners.

The first two years of the Ms. Antique Detroit Contest have been a delight for both entrants and spectators, pointing out that "You don't get older...you get better."

Contestants or interested friends of shy prospects may register for the pageant by calling 823-2233 and asking for Allien Rademaker.

Should your wife have a will too?
Harold Rediske
Generally, if your wife owns property, solely or jointly, or if she is heir to an estate, she should have a will of her own. This applies in quite a few other instances, as well. It can happen that both husband and wife may be victims of a fatal accident. The husband may have designated his wife as the major beneficiary of his estate in his will. Without the wife's having a will of her own, distribution of her share of the estate will not have been provided for. Her share may be subject to laws of the state, thus tying it up for long periods and at a time when funds may be needed. Even then, when the affairs are concluded, distribution of the wife's share may not be handled according to her wishes. Such an unfortunate situation can cause much heartbreak, costly delays and consumption of time on the parts of the heirs.
If the wife is a business partner, active or silent, in a family business, it is to the firm's advantage to have its business continuance safeguarded by the owners' each having a will.
After the man has made his own will, with the assistance of lawyers, he should discuss the possibilities of a separate will for the wife. It certainly will help to protect your own estate from being improperly dissolved after your death(s).
Above all, be sure to consult your attorneys in these matters of wills. We have seen so many bad situations arise, simply because there were no wills made or because they were improperly executed by amateurs. So be sure to put your future in the hands of a professional legal counsel for this.

New careers opening up to area's non-graduates

Are you an adult who has not graduated from high school and are interested in learning a new career? If so, there is a new career program open to you free of charge. You can keep your present job while learning a new skill.

This is a perfect opportunity for the person who wants to change his or her career or develop a new one.

A program with this in mind is being offered at several adult education centers in Southwestern Michigan including the Huron School district. Programs have been developed from Ecorse to Carleton and also cover adjacent counties. Classes available are auto collision, auto mechanics, small engine repair, machine trades, integrated office practice, health occupations, architectural drafting and data processing.

These courses are vocational training programs presented as an in-depth study of a particular field. There will be classroom work for learning fundamental theory but the majority of time will be in practical laboratory experience.

Career opportunities which will be open include motorcycle repair, lawnmower repair, machine tool operation, keypunch operation, clerk-typists, receptionist, nurse assistant, etc. With the variety of vocational training offered, your choice of careers can be expanded.

As an example of the training available, machine trade classes will cover basic skills working with bench tools and layout, machine tools operation, lathe, milling machine, shaper, drill press, band saws, grinders, metalworking operations, reading drawings and safety.

Classes will be held four nights a week, Monday through Thursday, for 35 weeks. At the completion of the course, the student will have developed job entry skills and added to high school competition requirements.

Regardless of where you live in Southeastern Michigan, classes are available to you within a short driving distance and tuition remains free to non-graduates. Although the program is designed to serve those who have not graduated, there is room for persons who have a high school diploma and still wish to participate. However, an $80 enrollment fee will be charged to graduates.

For additional information, call 782-2441 for time and location of all classes which will begin Sept. 13. Call now for advance registration since enrollment will be limited.

daughter, Mrs. June Sykes of Belleville (center) and her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Diane Priebe and 10-year old Laura Priebe also of Belleville. James Sykes and Richard Priebe were also in on the 1-week vacation.

Seniors can defer tax payments

Senior citizens are among those who can defer payment of their 1976 property taxes until Feb. 15, 1977—without penalty or interest—by taking advantage of the property tax relief program now being offered.

If your 1975 household income did not exceed $10,000 and you fall under one of the following classifications according to the Michigan Income Tax Act of 1967, as amended, you can qualify for the deferment. The four eligible classifications are: senior citizens, paraplegics or quadriplegics, eligible servicemen, veterans or widow of veterans, and blind persons.

Tax deferment forms are available at taxpayers' respective city halls.

Society prints museum guide

The Historical Society of Michigan has published a Bicentennial Directory of Historical Museums in Michigan, listing 90 such facilities located throughout the state.

Designed to serve as a visitor's guide, the directory lists museums by cities and includes museum hours and admission fees. There also is a section on special exhibits at major museums scheduled for now through December.

Copies of the museum directory are available for 25 cents each from the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw Avenue, Ann Arbor 48104, or by calling 769-1828. Quantities of 10 copies or more cost 15 cents each.

Cookout cues

Protect your meat investment by cooking it properly outdoors as well as in the kitchen.

Steaks can be broiled to perfection on the grill by placing them far enough from ash-covered coals so they reach the desired doneness without becoming too brown or losing their juiciness.

This means 2 to 3 inches for 1-inch steaks; 3 to 5 inches for 2-inch steaks.

Sirloin steaks cut 1 inch thick require 18 to 20 minutes for rare; 20 to 25 minutes for medium. Steaks cut 2 inches thick require 35 to 40 minutes for rare; 40 to 45 to 45 for medium.

Handicapped to ride horses

Handicapped and mentally retarded persons of all ages now can experience the thrill of horseback riding through a program being offered by the Wayne County 4-H.

The program, which has been in existence for about two months, is designed to give the disabled or retarded child or adult "mobility and a sense of pride that he or she can learn to do other things," a 4-H spokesman said.

The arena, where the program officially will get underway, will be in the Van Buren Township area, however, a specific site has not been selected yet.

The program, which originated in England, requires spotters — volunteers — who watch the guidelines in case a child or adult falls from the horse.

The participants not only will learn about horseback riding, they will attend a workshop to familiarize themselves with horses, saddles and other equestrian equipment.

The program will be ongoing, according to the spokesman, with new classes to be added after each semester. A pilot program for the county, the instruction will be added at other sites in the metropolitan area at a later date.

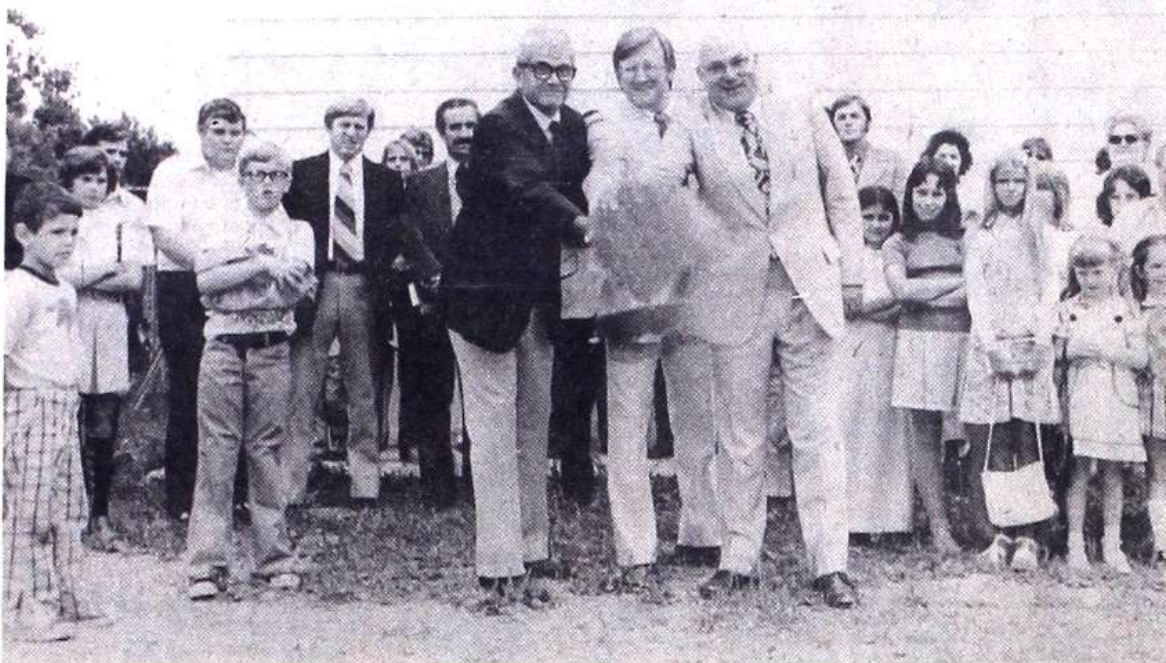

Volunteers are needed, to work with the participants and according to the 4-H spokesman, there are no requirements other than a willingness to work with the riders. The program will accept referrals and is open to not only mentally handicapped persons. Those who are blind, deaf or suffering from other afflictions can join.

The program is being funded through two grants, one from the Kellogg Foundation and the other from the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation.

Further information about the riding program, which is insured, can be obtained at the 4-H Office, located in the basement of the Wayne Post Office on Newberry Street in Wayne, or by calling Fran Littlemoser at 326-0322.

Counterpoint

Barr to serve on board for runaways

The chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has been appointed to the Board of Directors of Counterpoint, a shelter for runaway youths.

John Barr, (D-Dearborn Heights) is long experienced in the field of youth services.

"I am looking forward to taking an active part in Counterpoint's community services. Their staff is doing an outstanding job working with troubled young people from 12 to 17 years of age," Barr said.

Counterpoint, which opened its doors in July, serves as a temporary shelter for runaways who come voluntarily.

"Our goal is to provide safe, temporary shelter for runaways while we try to solve the problems with their families," said Barbara Bergman, Counterpoint's community education coordinator. "We are delighted to have someone of John Barr's stature and interest join our board. He will provide strength and direction to our young organization."

Barr serves as executive chairman of the Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council, is a member of the Executive Board of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, is the Legislative Committee Chairman of the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board and has been a member of the Legislative Committee of the Michigan Association of Counties.

He has held leadership positions in the Boys Club, has coached Little League basketball and football, and was vice-chairman of the Dad's Club. Barr is the father of two teen-aged sons.

Counterpoint is federally funded through its Title XX program. Open 14 hours a day, seven days a week, it is a temporary shelter which provides individual, group and family counseling for runaways and their families. It also provides medical and legal assistance to youth in need of those services.

No records or information regarding parents or young people are released without written permission, unless there is a court order.

The public is welcome to visit the Counterpoint shelter by calling its 24-hour number at 563-5005.

Francis Scott Key wrote the words to the "The Star Spangled Banner" on Sept. 14, 1814. On that day, he had journeyed to the embattled Baltimore harbor seeking the release of a friend being held prisoner there. Key himself was detained 25 hours on a British warship "Supreme" while the fleet shelled nearby St. McHenry. At dawn, relieved to see the American flag still flying over the fort, he was inspired to write the words of the poem that later became our National Anthem. On the flag mall at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, a 15-star flag like the one that inspired the song flies today.

Try Boardman, Betsie and Platte

Three rivers offer canoeing enjoyment

For pure family canoeing enjoyment on peaceful, tree-lined, shallow streams, don't pass up Michigan's Boardman, Platte and Betsie rivers.

Neither the stamina of a marathon expert nor the skill of a white water voyager are required for these streams, rated three of the state's best for novice paddlers.

Short trips offered on all three rivers make perfect outings on a summer's morning or afternoon, especially if picnic stops at one of the numerous state forest campgrounds along the way are included.

The historic Boardman, recently named a state natural river, is the northernmost of the trio and by far the least canoe.

Named for the family which built the area's first sawmill in 1847 near the site of Traverse City, the river's two branches merge amidst the cedar, hemlock and pines of Fife Lake State Forest near the Forks forest campground, seven miles south of Williamsburg.

Paddlers can choose from a 2-hour trip starting at the Forks or a 4-hour float from Broomhead Road Bridge to Ranch Road, the river's only canoe livery. Thirty-four craft are available for rent there, so families might want to bring their own.

More experienced paddlers can tackle the day-long, 20-mile trip from the Forks to Boardman Lake Dam near Traverse City. Plan on portages at Brown, Keystone, Boardman and Sabin dams. You can portage Boardman Lake dam and paddle into the city. After portaging Union Street dam, drift through the city to the river's mouth in Grand Traverse Bay's west arm. Longer trips can be made by stopping at any of the river's four campgrounds.

Canoeing on the river's north branch near Kalkaska, site of the annual late-April National Trout Festival, or the south branch, which begins near South Boardman, is difficult because of numerous log jams.

Motorists can follow much of the river's course on Boardman River Road, off M-37 south of Traverse City. All river campgrounds are reachable by auto, as are several access sites for anglers after the river's abundant brown trout.

Although lumbering along the river was modest compared to other Michigan streams, at least six mills were along its banks in the late 1800s. The area's cherry crop however, soon supplanted lumber.

About 15 miles southwest of Traverse City, the Platte River begins flowing from the south shore of Lake Ann and winds for 37 miles to Lake Michigan.

The 10-mile stretch from Lake Ann to the US-31 bridge is too shallow for good canoeing. The canoeable 17-mile upper stretch starts just below the US-31 bridge east of Honor. The Platte River State Fish Hatchery and weir are upstream from the bridge.

Many consider this "upper river" trip the most scenic stretch, with clear, cold water flowing over a bottom paved golden with gravel. Cedar trees arching low over the water shade both canoeists and the river's rainbow and brown trout.

A few miles west, the river flows into Platte Lake, but it can be found again easily if paddlers stay along the lake's northern shore. The trip lasts six hours, ending near the M-22 bridge where three liveries are headquartered.

The 10-mile-long lower river portion starts at M-22. Here, the river is calm and wide, taking canoeists through Loon Lake to a point one block from Lake Michigan in three hours.

Fall canoeists viewing the changing colors also will witness one of the state's largest salmon runs, as coho return to their hatchery home. The event is celebrated each September in Honor during the National Coho Festival. Thousands of coho can be viewed in the clear water below the Platte River weir.

The final member of the trio—the Betsie—begins its 52-mile journey to Lake Michigan from Green Lake near Interlochen. Snaking south toward Thompsonville, then north, it empties into the big lake at Frankfort, scene of the National Soaring and Hang Gliding Festival each June.

Canoeing its length takes about three days, with portages at Grass Lake, Thompsonville and Homestead dams and camping at Grass Lake and near Thompsonville. Shorter trips from two to six hours are offered by the liveries at Karlin, Thompsonville, Benzonia and Elberta.

Many paddlers prefer one of two routes: a 2-hour trip from Karlin to Grass Lake and a 5- to 6-hour float from Grass Lake to Thompsonville. Beaver, otter, royal swans and an occasional bear often are seen along the riverbank. The Betsie also is one of the state's top 20 salmon and steelhead streams.

Dwindling gas tax revenues dismay road administrators

Michigan's county and municipal road administrators have been dismayed to learn that while gasoline tax revenues are going up, funds for improvement and maintenance of local roads and streets are below a year ago.

State motor fuel tax revenues for the April-June quarter were up 5.6 percent, but the distribution of funds to the state, counties and cities dropped 6.1 percent, compared with the same quarter of 1975.

Funds disbursed to state and local highway agencies in the April-June quarter this year totaled $116.5 million compared with $124.1 million a year ago.

The Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation earlier had erred in announcing that the quarterly disbursements were higher.

The drop in revenues divided among the state and local road departments results in part from a $950,000 increase in the cost of collecting gas and weight taxes during the 3-month quarter. It cost the state $5.1 million to collect highway and transportation taxes between April and June, as compared with only $4.2 million in the quarter.

X-ray equipment purchase approved

A proposal by the operators of Wayne's Annapolis Hospital to purchase several items of equipment for the X-ray department has been approved by the state.

The equipment which the People's Community Hospital Authority plans to acquire will add to the X-ray department's diagnostic capability. It will make it possible for the staff to perform arteriograms, cardiac catheterizations, and other studies which require the introduction of a contrast (dye) material into a patient's arteries. The estimated cost of the equipment is $280,000 and is expected to be completed by January, 1977.

The project was issued a certificate of need by the State Health Department's Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction. Agreeing with the department decision were the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan and the state administrators of the Federal Hill-Burton program.

For the 12-month period ending June 30, total motor fuel tax revenues were up 2.3 percent and vehicle license fee collections were up 3.5 percent, but the money available for road and street improvement went up only .10 of 1 percent.

The difference is partly explained because state officials have withheld distribution of interest earned on motor vehicle highway fund revenues. Normally this money is distributed to state, county and municipal units after June 30, but this year the state extended its fiscal year to Sept. 30.

As a result of this delayed payment, highway agencies will not share in any interest gained until after Sept. 30, too late to be of use during the current construction season.

Last year the earned interest amounted to $9.8 million. No estimate has been made for this year's earnings which will cover a 15-month rather than a 12-month period.

76-584

WHEREAS: The City Council is intimately aware of the necessity for the City of Romulus to have a budget from which to operate, however, the City Council has grave reservations as to the adequacy and-or completeness of this document in its existing form and;

WHEREAS: There are certain specifics which, in particular, cause the preponderance of the concern of the City Council. Specifics as follows:

1. As of May 31st the City collected $3,745,069.00. We had expenditures of $2,856,508.00, reflecting a surplus of approximately $1,000,000.00. Yet, the new document does not reflect under revenues this surplus. It is, therefore, urgent that an explanation be provided for this apparent deficiency.

2. The present document reflects a reduction in the appropriated amount intended to defray the City's obligation under its Law Enforcement Contract. It is therefore necessary that the Mayor provide assurance that the existing levels of service will be maintained during the new fiscal year.

3. To keep the City Council currently abreast of services being rendered by the Law Enforcement Contract, the Mayor should prepare and provide City Council a report outlining all services currently being performed under the Law Enforcement Contract.

4. Considerable funds are being expended as a result of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) it is, therefore, requested that within thirty (30) days a CETA budget be prepared and presented to City Council outlining the total revenues and expenditures by position.

5. The unexpended portion of the 1975-76 Drain Revenues be reflected in the revenue and expenditure portion of the 1976-77 general fund.

6. That before the mid-year budget review Council be provided with a report indicating the City's degree of compliance with the auditors internal control and audit procedures recommendation. (Prepared by Post, Smythe, Lutz & Ziel).

7. The City of Romulus is in the final stages of the development of a master plan and are continually being requested by developers to provide major public utilities and we are advised by the administrative officials that the City has limited funds to undertake major public improvements. The City Council believes that it is absolutely essential that a capital improvement program be developed, if the City is to proceed with any degree of order. It is, therefore, directed that the Mayor contract the appropriate professionals to develop a capital improvement program to be completed and presented to City Council at, or before, mid-year budget review, and;

WHEREAS: The City Council have herein set forth its concerns of the adequacy and-or completeness of the 1976-77 budget document.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT: The 1976-77 fiscal year budget for the General Fund, Fixed Asset Fund, Local and Major Street Funds and the Sewer and Water Funds be adopted.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus does herewith set forth its intent to conduct mid-year budget review and require that the administration have satisfied all concerns set forth herein and report as same to City Council.

Greenfield Village to host colonial muster

The third annual Colonial Military Muster at Greenfield Village Saturday and Sunday promises a full lineup of activity and excitement, a spokesman said. This 2-day event recalling Revolutionary War military life on both sides of the battle line, will feature close to 300 authentically-uniformed soldiers and four costumed musical groups.

The Colonial Military Muster has continued to grow in scope since its addition to the Village special events calendar in 1974. This year, some 21 military units — both Colonial and Crown Forces — will participate and, for the first time, some of their activities will be staged in front of Henry Ford Museum at no charge.

Each day's muster program begins at 8:45 a.m. with a flag raising ceremony in front of the museum. Later, the focal point shifts to the village where uniformed fife and drum units will stage performances of 18th-century military music on the green. At noon, all military units and the fife and drum corps assemble in front of the museum for weapons inspection followed by a parade to the Village Activities Field where the balance of each day's activities takes place.

Following opening ceremonies and unit inspection on the field, the troops will demonstrate tactical maneuvers and 18th-century drill procedures. Once each day, individual units will present live musket and cannon demonstrations using authentic weapons of the period. On both Saturday and Sunday afternoons, a showing of 18th-century fashions for women and children will take place on the field, while, in front of the museum, a fife and drum corps will entertain.

As a grand finale to each day's Muster program, all participating units, both Colonial and Loyalist, will assemble on the Activities Field for a mock battle using the military maneuvers their ancestors used during the Revolutionary War.

Throughout the Muster, four costumed musical groups will provide the stirring sounds of long ago. The First Michigan Colonial Fife and Drum Corps from Macomb County returns to the Village Muster this year to perform the martial music of the 1700s. Joining this corps for parades and concert performances around the village and museum will be the Village Volunteers Fife and Drum Corps from Delmar, N.Y., the 13th Pennsylvania Regimental Fife and Drum Corps from Fenton and the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps from Plymouth, on Saturday only.

Near the viewing stand, craftsmen will demonstrate the weaponry skills once essential to the frontiersman and soldier. Elsewhere in the village, visitors may see period campsites where continuous 18th-century crafts and recreational activities re-create the everyday lives of military men and their families.

All Colonial Military Muster activities taking place in front of Henry Ford Museum are presented free of charge. Activities inside

Greenfield Village are included in the regular Village admission price.

Sports events top calendar of travel

Football, baseballs and the staccato beat of flashing hooves fill the air as September arrives in the State of Michigan.

With its cool nights and balmy days and less crowded highways, September in the state is a traveler's delight, with so much to see and do, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Collegiate football, professional baseball and football, harness and thoroughbred racing, county fairs and a myriad of community festivals combine to make September an "event full" month.

Traditionally, several thousand visitors and residents join forces in making the 5-mile trek across the Mackinac Bridge from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City during the annual Labor Day bridge walk. Labor Day is the only day of the year when it is possible to walk between Michigan's two peninsulas.

Rapidly gaining in popularity among weekend travelers is the Detroit Ethnic Festival Program. The 1976 season closes next month offering the cultures and costumes of the Latin American Festival, Sept. 3-6; the Mexican Festival, Sept. 10-12; and the International Festival, Sept. 17-19.

If you follow the fairs, Michigan has several to offer beginning with the Oceana County Fair at Hart on Sept. 2-6, followed closely by the Upper Peninsula's Chippewa County 4-H-FFA Fair at Kinross and Dickinson County Fair at Norway, both Sept. 3-6. And after that are the Vassar Fair at Vassar on Sept. 6-11, Saline Community Fair at Saline on Sept. 7-11, and Allegan County Fair at Allegan, Sept. 10-18, with still more to come—the Old Town Fair, on Mackinac Island, Sept. 11-12; Saginaw Fair at Saginaw, Sept. 11-18; St. Joseph County Grange Fair at Centerville, Sept. 19-25, and Hillsdale County Agricultural Fair at Hillsdale, Sept. 26-Oct. 2.

A newcomer to the September scene is the Antique Fire Apparatus Muster at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Sept. 25-26. Once a part of the village harvest celebration, the fire engine muster now is an event of its own. More than 60 old-time fire engines will converge for two days of fire fighting contests, games of skill, races, parades and water pumping demonstrations.

On the Bicentennial front there is a Dedication of Memorials in Trout Lake, Sept. 5-6; the 13th annual Historic Home Tour at Marshall, Sept. 11-12; an Historic Home Tour in Owosso, Sept. 18-19; and a Home Tour and Festival in St. Johns, Sept. 25.

September also ushers in harvest time with its many food-oriented festivals among which are the Michigan Honey Festival at Chesaning, Sept. 9-12; Michigan State Potato Festival at Edmore, Sept. 10-12; Grape and Wine Festival at Paw Paw, Sept. 16-19; Four Flags Area Apple Festival at Niles, Sept. 23-26; and the Apple Festival in Freeland, Sept. 24-26.

For a complete list of all the events highlighting the September calendar, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing 48913, or call toll-free in Michigan 800-292-2520 and out-of-state 800-248-5456.

Museum piece

The first passenger train in New York State to be drawn by a steam locomotive made its inaugural run between Albany and Schenectady on Aug. 9, 1831. Named the DeWitt Clinton, after a former governor of New York State, the train consisted of five cars besides the tender. Three were old stagecoaches, two were open cars with planks so passengers could sit sideways. An exact replica of this historic train, containing all the remaining pieces of the original DeWitt Clinton, is displayed in the transportation section of Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Ed centers provide new career training

Adults in the Huron School District who have not completed high school and are interested in a new learning career, then there's a program free that will fit their needs, while permitting continued employment.

The program, which is being offered at several adult education centers in southeastern Michigan, includes classes in auto collision, auto mechanics, small engine repair, machine trades, integrated office practice, health occupations, architectural drafting and data processing.

Considered vocational training programs, an in-depth study of a particular field is presented, with classroom work for learning fundamental theory and a majority of the time spent in practical laboratory experience.

Career opportunities available include motorcycle repair, lawn-mower repair, machine tool operator, keypunch operator, clerk-typist, receptionist, nurse assistant and others.

For example the training available in the machine trade classes are the basic skills of working with bench tools and layout, machine tool operation; lathe, milling machine, shaper, drill press, band saws, grinders and metalworking operations; reading drawings and safety.

Classes will be held four nights a week — Monday through Thursday — for 35 weeks. At the end of the course, the student will have developed job entry skills and added to his or her high school completion requirements.

Although the programs are designed for those people who have not completed high school, there is room for graduates in the program. However, there will be a $30 enrollment fee for graduates.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 782-2441. Since there will be limited enrollment, interested persons should register now. Class will begin Sept. 13.

Local school districts share $12 million in aid payments

Students from school districts in Southeastern Michigan will share the benefits to be gained from more than $12 million in state aid to be paid in this month.

In addition, 10 of those school districts will share approximately $280,000 in federal funds provided under Titles I and III of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965 and the Vocational Education Act of 1963.

The total state aid payments amount to $12,025,680. School districts receive state aid payments on the first of August, October, December, February, April and June.

The total August state aid payment to the districts is Airport Community School District, $206,990; Lincoln Consolidated School District, $137,620; Cherry Hill School District, $476,730; Inkster City School District, $646,520; Plymouth Community School District, $436,290; Romulus Community Schools, $347,330; Wayne-Westland Community Schools, $2,610,320; Huron School District, $508,240; and Van Buren Public Schools, $350,920.

School districts may use state aid money to pay for teachers' salaries and general operating costs.

The federal government provides Title I funds to schools to finance special programs for educationally deprived children. A school district, for example, could use the money to provide concentrated reading or math programs for students who need this special assistance.

The allocation of Title I funds to the districts is Airport Community School District, $9,404; Inkster City School District, $30,995; Plymouth Community School District, $15,000; Romulus Community Schools, $20,173; and Van Buren Public Schools, $87,373.

The districts that have obtained federal Vocational Education Act funds are Cherry Hill School District, $12,795, and Romulus Community Schools, $17,318.

Fruit sale to benefit MD drive

A Van Buren Township entrepreneur will be selling produce from his garden to benefit the Jerry Lewis drive to raise funds to combat Muscular Dystrophy.

The entrepreneur, who asked that his name not be printed, said a produce stand will be erected at 12175 Beckley Road in Van Buren Township, and that produce will be "sold" for a donation to the muscular dystrophy fundraiser.

"There are no set prices, but the produce goes for a pretty good price, because the donations are all for charity," said the entrepreneur. "People are generous."

According to the stand operator, better than $300 went to the Jerry Lewis Telethon held during Labor Day weekend last year as a result of produce sales.

The drive will begin next weekend at the Beckley Road address.

Cincy wins NABF World Series

Westlanders salvage one win, 15-3

By JIM BRADLEY
Special to the Eagle

A strong Cincinnati Midland team fought off a last-inning Westland rally Sunday afternoon to win, 10-8, and become national champions in the senior division of the National Amateur Baseball Federation World Series played at Jaycee Park over the weekend.

It was the Warriors' third victory in four games in the best-of-five World Series in the 17 and 18-year-old division.

Cincinnati, displaying strong hitting and disciplined play for the most part, beat the host Westland Legion team, 8-5, Friday night and 6-5 Saturday afternoon before losing, 15-3, Saturday night. Then, Manager Shelby Bowling's team, which ran up a dazzling 47-12 record including tournament play this year, came back to win the clincher, 10-8, for the title.

After being presented a huge $400 trophy donated by the National Professional Baseball League, Bowling said: "It is truly a great honor to beat such a fine team as Westland. We have never played a team of finer sportsmen, players and coaches alike, than this team. They are a credit to the sport in every way and it was a real joy to play them."

Cincinnati won on the final day by picking up single runs in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings before exploding for five runs in the seventh to take a commanding 9-2 lead.

The key blow in the seventh was a three-run homer over the left-center field wall by pitcher Mel Taylor, the second of the series for the outstanding outfielder who has been drafted by the Detroit Tigers.

Westland, who had won seven of eight games in Joliet, Ill., for the honor to host this World Series, would not roll over, however, as they scored two in the bottom of the seventh.

Cincinnati Midland third-sacker Jack Kozniczi, who played a strong series, cleared the left-field fence with a solo shot in the top of the ninth to give the visitors a 10-4 lead. It seemed irrelevant at the time but proved to be a deciding factor in the game.

Westland, managed by Don Wright, fought back as it has in every game to almost pull it out in the ninth. The Legionnaires tallied four runs on three hits, two walks and two errors and had the bases loaded with one out before reliever Tom Chapman finally retired the final two batters.

Even then, Westland almost won it. With the sacks jammed and two out, Gray Mason looped a liner down the right-field line that dropped foul by just a few feet.

"I'm very proud of everyone of these boys," said Wright after the game. "This is a fine group of boys and they never say die. They give one hundred percent all the time and that's what makes it such a joy to coach them."

Even though Westland didn't win the series, they were in every game and routed the visitors from Ohio, 15-3, Saturday night, as John Glenn's Eric Borsvold and Ken Mehall of Southgate Aquinas High School each slugged three-for-five. Borsvold also scored three times.

Winning pitcher in Westland's only victory was lefty Larry Clarke, a 5-11, 205-pounder who resembles John (Boog) Powell of the Cleveland Indians. Clarke, who lives in Westland and graduated from Birmingham Brother Rice High School this summer, was the only local hurler who could tame the Midland bats.

Clarke scattered four hits in going the distance and was in command all the way after his mates staked him to a 3-1 lead in the first inning and won going away.

Cincinnati's batting power was evident in Friday night's opener as Midland scored three in the first, three in the fifth and single runs in the sixth and seventh to take its 8-5 win.

Westland jumped into a 1-0 first-inning lead when Mark Lipinski singled and rode home on Pat Bledsoe's long double up the alley in

Firing away

It just wasn't Gordy Chretien night Friday as the Westland hurler failed to stop Cincinnati in the first game of the National Amateur Baseball Federation "World Series".

Chretien, who lasted seven innings, absorbed an 8-5 loss in the best of five series. Cincinnati went on to win the National NABF Senior Division (17-18 year-olds) championship.

Churchill's Mitchell is selected UM-D's head hockey coach

Adam Mitchell, who guided Livonia Churchill to state-wide hockey recognition, was named this week to head the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus varsity hockey program.

Mitchell is a 30-year-old Livonia school teacher who has compiled an outstanding record as a prep and junior league hockey coach over a span of the past 10 years.

Mitchell's appointment was announced by Richard Sypula, UM-Dearborn's director of athletics and the man whom Mitchell succeeds as head coach.

A native of Dearborn, Mitchell graduated from Wayne State University 1968 and joined the Livonia School System. He received his master's degree in guidance from WSU in 1971.

Mitchell began his coaching career in 1966. From 1966 through 1971, he coached in every division - from squirts to midgets - in the Dearborn Recreation League. Each of his teams won the Dearborn city championship, with one team reaching the state finals.

In 1971, Mitchell became head coach at Livonia Churchill High School. His teams compiled an outstanding 69-11-8 record, winning one Suburban League championship, a co-championship and finishing second twice. In 1973-74, his Churchill team was rated second in the state, earning his coach-of-the-year honors. During the same season, Mitchell also coached the Slator midgets, a team of all first-year players, to a 72-9-4 record and a second place finish in the state tournament.

Moving the Great Lakes Junior "A" League last season, Mitchell took charge of the Paddock Pool Saints, compiling a 22-17-7 mark.

In announcing Mitchell's appointment, Sypula noted that "We are extremely fortunate to have a person of Coach Mitchell's caliber and experience. His high school and junior league coaching background is extensive, and his records indicate that he is a proven coach with young hockey players. We feel he will be an asset to our young varsity program in these important formative years."

Mitchell who resides in Livonia with his wife, Rosemary, and children, Kimberly, 4 and David, 2, will inherit a varsity squad of 14 lettermen that skated to an 11-14-1 mark in its first season of varsity competition in 1975-76. UM-D is the only four-year institution in metropolitan Detroit with a varsity hockey program.

Tennis tourney lures 80

There were no major upsets in Wayne's annual open tennis tournament held under perfect conditions over the weekend.

"We had a fine turnout," said Larry Wood, tournament manager. "Some 80 players competed this year and, though it was a little hot, the weather, I felt, was ideal for tennis."

Todd Beyer, Wayne Memorial's No. 1 stick, captured the men's singles' trophy when he turned back David Van Dam in two sets 6-1 and 6-0.

However, Van Dam and partner Dave Terwilliger earned their margin of revenge when they beat Beyer and his colleague, Jeff Holderness for the men's doubles' crown.

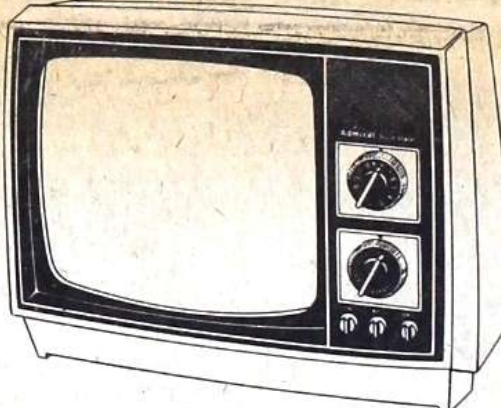

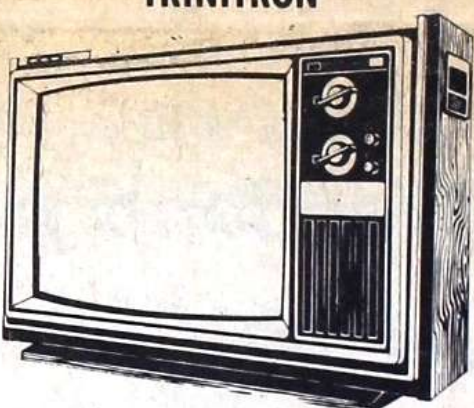

In the finals, Van Dam and Terwilliger won the opener 6-4, dropped the second set 5-7, but recovered their game in time to win a well-contested decisive third match 7-5.

In the junior boys' singles, Dave Cook turned back Leroy Blivens in two sets 6-4 and 7-5 to win the city championship.

The women's competition was equally keen. In singles, Jean Hartwig survived a determined Carolyn Reynolds to win sets of 6-4 and 6-4 for the title. In the doubles, Val Frinrock and Robin Walker defeated Lois Beyer and Carol Sotola in sets of 6-1 and 6-4.

Meanwhile, Miss Walker continued to dominate the singles competition for girls as she won the championship by beating Miss Frinrock 6-0, 6-0.

Cincy captures title right centerfield. Lipinski, who played third base for the host team and graduates from Cherry Hill High School next summer, was Westland's most productive hitter.

Brought up in the Westland Youth Athletic Association program, the right-handed hitter rapped nine hits in 18 trips and scored five runs in the series in addition to fielding flawlessly at the hot corner.

In the bottom of the first, Westland starter Gordy Chretien walked Steve Bowling and Chris Nixon. Rick Bowling bunted them along and then Taylor, who had 7-for-16 during the series, including two home runs, ripped a double to right center to chase home Bowling and Nixon. Taylor scored on Jim Bradley's single up the middle.

Westland edged back into the lead, 4-3, before Midland wrapped the win. Singles by second-sacker Gary Mancini, of Lincoln Park High, and Mark Lipinski got Westland its second run. Then walks to Chretien and Mancini and Lipinski's double gave Wright's squad its short-lived lead.

Midland went ahead for good in the fifth when switch-hitting Chris Nixon, batting left-handed, cleared the right centerfield fence with a two-run homer. Rick Bowling followed with a double and scored on Taylor's single to right. A walk to Mullins and singles by David Shaffer and Chapmon added a run in the sixth.

Nixon singled and later scored on Taylor's single for Midland's last run. Taylor wound up the first game with two singles, a double and four runs batted in. Richard Becker was the winning pitcher on a six-hitter.

Cincinnati came from behind to take the second game, 6-5, on a two-run rally in the top of the eighth. The visitors jumped to a 3-0 edge. Taylor sent a high drive over the centerfield fence for a home-run in the third. Nixon singled home the second run in the fourth before Chapmon singled, stole second and scored on Jack Koznicz's single to center.

The scrappy Westland club, which was also coached by Clyde Pittman, Bob Amorose and John Govan, took the lead with four runs in the fifth.

Clarke and Ed Jaroszewicz walked and were bunted along by starting pitcher Bill Acromite. Clarke scored on "old reliable" Lipinski's single but Jaroszewicz slipped rounding third and had to hold. However, shortstop Eric Borsvold drilled a homer over the centerfield fence and the three-run blast gave the hosts a 4-3 edge as the crowd roared its approval.

Singles by Koznicz and Steven Looney plated the tying run for Cincinnati in the top of the seventh before Midland scored two decisive runs in the eighth without the benefit of a hit.

In the eighth, Rick Bowling and Bradley walked. Then Taylor's hard bouncer skipped off Westland's first sacker's glove and down the right field line as the two runners scored to make it 6-4.

Again Westland rallied in the bottom of the eighth and came within three feet of tying the score. With two down, Bledsoe reached first on an error and then Larry Clarke socked a high drive down the right field line that looked like it would clear the fence to knot the score. However, it hit about three feet from the top of the fence as Bledsoe scored and Clarke reached second. Don Kelsch, who came on in relief of winner Steven King, got the last out and retired Westland in order in the ninth.

In the final game, Taylor, a strong left-hander who played freshman ball at Austin-Peay College this spring, allowed just two runs and four hits through six innings. He gave up two runs and three hits in the seventh. Two errors, two hits and a pair of walks put Taylor in trouble in the ninth before Chapmon struggled to get the final Westland out with the bases loaded.

Besides Mark Lipinski's 9-for-18, Ken Mehall rapped out 7 hits in 18 trips, including a long home-run. Borsvold also cleared the fence in his six safeties in 15 tries and scored five runs in the series.

Other unofficial batting stats for Westland showed Mancini, 3 hits in 16 at-bats; Bledsoe, 2-for-16; Clarke, 3-15; Rick Pittman, 2-13; Tim Clark, 0-8; Chretien, 2-10; Jaroszewicz, 1-2; Mike Lipinski, 1-2; Mason, 0-3; Acromite, 0-1; Joe Galvan, 0-1; and Randy Pittman, 0-1.

Waynite leads Garden City to Legion state championship

Bill Crews, an All-Area baseball outfielder from Wayne Memorial, drilled two home runs and batted in five runs to lead Garden City to an 18-11 victory over Blissfield and the American Legion state championship.

The victory earned Garden City a shot at the American Legion national title which will be fought for beginning today in Lafayette, Ind. Along with Garden City, teams representing Ohio, Illinois, New York will make up the six-state national Legion tourney field.

Crews, who played right field for the state champs, was named as the state tourney's Most Valuable Player. In the championship game, he collected three hits, two homers and a double.

Crews finished the series at Jackson, Mich. with a .400 batting average. He counted four homers and 15 runs batted in and also pitched three scoreless innings in the finals.

However, it was teammate Don Canfield who earned the pitching victory. He came in as a reliever and gave up three earned runs.

Another Waynite, Mike Melcher, batted four-for-five against Blissfield.

Coach Ken Stack's ball club made its bid for the state title by losing its opener to Blissfield, 7-3. However, Garden City bounced back to beat Waterford 12-2, whipped Cadillac 20-2 and Ishpeming 19-2 to set the stage for the rematch against Blissfield.

Both teams came out swinging in the finals and Garden City emerged atop of a 18-11 slugfest.

Garden City's winning lineup, managed by Jay Scowden, also included Wally Krol, Dave Sarkissian, who belted four homers in the series, Dave Wolan, Jeff Edgar, Dave Noonan, Jerry Hool, a 16-year-old catcher.

Regional title up for grabs

Wayne-Westland area softball fans will have an opportunity to see some of the best fastpitch teams in the country when the regional tournament opens up in Southgate over the Labor Day weekend.

The tournament, featuring 16 teams from four states, is being sponsored by the Detroit Fastpitch World Champs, Inc., a new organization composed of players who played on world champion teams.

"We expect a tremendous series in Southgate," said Dick Coppins, one of the tournament's organizers. "We know there are many fastpitch softball fans in this area and having the tournament in this area is something we have worked very hard for."

The state to be represented include Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Opening ceremonies will be held at 6:30 p.m. with two games played each night at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Gate prices are $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. Tourney passes may be purchased for $5 and are available at Big Bill's Sports Shop in Dearborn Heights for area fans.

Safe landing

Checking into second safely for a stolen base is Westlander Mark Lipinski who eventually scored one of the runs in the opening game against a visiting Cincinnati contingent. Westland, playing the role of the perfect host, lost its chance for a national Amateur Baseball Federal Senior Championship, losing a best of five series to Cincy over the weekend.

Thirty-three golfers took part in Canton Chamber of Commerce's inaugural golf outing held at Fellow's Creek Golf Course last week.

Ken McKee, a veteran golfer, took low gross honors, while Bud McKenna turned in the low net score. Mary Perna had the low net score for the women's flight.

When selecting a pair of replacement tires in the same size and construction as those that are already on your car, the newer tires should be placed on the rear wheels for better traction and handling. Many experts feel that motorists who develop tire problems on the front axle, because of skidding or disengagement, still have some control over the vehicle.

However, when the problem occurs on the rear wheels, most drivers have no way to compensate for skids or swerves — And that is where new tires can help.

If you are a "do-it-yourself" mechanic, visit KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster, for the parts and tools you need to keep your car in top shape. We have a complete line of quality parts and accessories for both foreign and domestic cars. Westland plays perfect host role Westland is a very gracious host. At least this is the unanimous report from everyone connected with the recently concluded National Amateur Baseball Federation Senior World Series played at Westland's Jaycee Park over the weekend.

By JIM BRADLEY

"This is the finest we have been treated by anyone that we have played," said Shelby Bowling, manager of the Cincinnati Midland Warriors who won the national championship here Sunday afternoon with a thrilling, 10-8, victory in the best-of-five series with Westland.

"Be sure and thank everyone for us," Bowling continued. "We were treated with the utmost kindness and consideration and you have the finest sportsmen here, both players and coaches. Not one thing was done by anyone except the finest of gentlemanly play."

Cincinnati Midland won the right to play in the World series here by winning the southern division championship in its home city by taking five of six games in the tournament. The Warriors have compiled a 47-12 record en route to the national championship for boys 17 and 18 years old.

"I can't say enough about our sponsor, Midland Guardian Company, which sponsors many baseball teams and has been very generous in giving us financial support on this trip," said Bowling whose team stayed at Holiday Inn near Metropolitan Airport.

Tom Bertino, president of the NABF, was in town for the world series and was particularly impressed with Westland's good job of running the tournament.

"Westland is almost like my home team," Bertino related. "Having

Salvaging a victory

Cincinnati Midland invaded Westland over the weekend and won the best of five game National Amateur Baseball Federation World Series three games to one. And one of the reasons why Cincy didn't make it a clean sweep was because of the outstanding all-around performance by Larry Clarke who pitched the local contingent to its only victory. Above, Clarke lets a low one go by.

Wayne to host WAOA's women softball tourney

The Westland Athletic Officials Association (WAOA), has once again selected Wayne as its site for its prestigious Women's Invitational Tournament.

The tournament will be held Fri., Sat., and Sunday Sept. 10, 11, 12th at Attwood Park, Anderson Field, at Howe and Annapolis.

Eighteen top notch teams have entered the two-game elimination affair.

A total of 54 awards will be given by WAOA. Three prizes are to be raffled including a television set.

WAOA, Michigan's No. 1 Umpire Association, will be doing a play-by-play of all games.

George Gillies, President of WAOA said, "The tournament has been such a success in the past, it will be difficult to emulate. The umpires when not officiating will become part of the ground crew. This will give the people a real look at the finest ground crew ever assembled."

Gillies turned down offers from other cities to bring the tournament back to Wayne. He said: "The people of Wayne have been fantastic to us and it's a real privilege to be associated with the recreational professionals they have in Wayne."

A large concession stand will be available with a variety of drinks, food, snacks and souvenirs. The Wayne Memorial High School Band, Westland VFW Post No. 3323 Color Guard, and Soloist, Dave Herge will perform prior to the Championship game, Sunday Sept. 12th at 4:30 p.m.

Wayne Mayor Paul Lada and Mike Gouin, of the Wayne Parks and Recreation, will assist Gillies in presenting the 54 awards.

Over 600 spectators witnessed last year's championship game and WAOA is hoping to have more this year.

Tournament entries include teams from Ann Arbor, Monroe, Dexter, Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Plymouth, Redford, Taylor, Garden

City, Westland, and Wayne.

Gillies, A.S.A. newly-appointed Umpire-in-chief of Metro Detroit, said by the early 1980's, "Women's softball will equal the men in number of teams. Gillies who was chosen by A.S.A. to teach clinics in Europe this year and was unable to because of a death in the family, also stated that modified pitch is on the way back. Modified is similar to fast pitch; however, the pitcher is restricted from windmill and sling-shot deliveries.

Fast-Pitch rules are followed including stealing and bunting.

With softball rated second in our nation as a recreation sport, second to bowling, there is a magnitude of pressure on city administration to expand their recreational facilities.

He also noted that communities like Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Romulus, Garden City, Ann Arbor, and Wayne have expanded their softball program to the rushing recreational player.

Studio Lounge wins it all in Westland

Exploding for 15 runs in the second inning, Studio Lounge buried arch-rival, Midas Muffler 26-4 to capture the Westland Parks and Recreation women's softball playoff championship.

Earlier, Studio whipped Midas 12-4 to win the league title. The two teams had finished with identical 13-1 records during the campaign and a playoff was needed to settle their title differences.

In the one-sided 26-4 win, Studio took an early 3-0 first inning lead, but Midas came back to cut into the margin in its second by two runs. However, Studio wasted little time and effort as it struck for 15 runs in the bottom of that inning to put the game out of reach.

The undisputed champs then added six more runs in the sixth inning, while winning pitcher Sharon Hodder gathered "goose eggs" until the seventh when she gave up her final two runs of the game. Miss Hodder was tough on Midas's battery, scattering eight hits - two each to Marie Gozowski and Marianne Warren.

Losing hurler Linda Sylvester served up 17 hits and was tagged for 20 runs before she was yanked for reliever Madeline Tracht who also had her problems in the sixth.

First baseman Annette Belanger and Pat Olson led Studio Lounge's attack. Miss Belanger drilled a home run, doubled and singled and also counted six runs batted in. Miss Olson chipped in four RBI's, a homer, triple and a pair of singles.

In the special playoff game to determine the league champs, Studio again grabbed an early 5-0 advantage in the first inning, then added a run in the third and picked up six more in the sixth.

Miss Hodder was working on a shutout for five innings before Midas wrecked it with a four-run spurt in the sixth frame. Hodder, again the winning hurler, gave up seven hits, two of those to Beth Johnson.

Miss Olsen and Robin Soave split six of the 15 Studio Lounge hits.

Madeline Tracht, tagged for 15 hits, was the losing pitcher.

Midas reached the finals by turning back Town & Country Dodge 24-7. Amassing a 22-hit assault on losing pitcher Kathy Katalenic, Midas scored nine times in the first inning, then put it out of reach with a 10-run surge in the second.

Midas's Jo Snow was perfect at the plate, collecting four hits, a double and three singles and driving in three runs. Judy Fisher also checked in with three RBI's thanks to a homer and pair of singles while teammate Lynn Anderson got a double of doubles, good for four RBI's.

Marianne Warren and Lynn Anderson split four hits between them, with Anderson collecting four RBI's for the winners.

Kyra Ebbett, Kathy LeBlanc, Sarah Burrow each had two hits for the losers.

Midas also disposed of Town & Country Dodge 20-8 behind the four-hit pitching of Linda Sylvester who gave up a pair of homers to Gayle Landrum and Kathy Katalenic.

Beth Johnson drove in four runs for Midas, counting a homer and single in a two for five day. Team-mate Sue Harding belted two singles and drove in two runs.

Town & Country stunned Midas with three runs in the first inning while losing pitcher Kathy Katalenic held Midas scoreless for two innings. However, a 13-run outburst by Midas in the third inning made it clear to Town & Country that it was no match for Midas that day.

Studio Lounge launched its bid for the playoff title by downing Johnny's Shell 10-1 behind Hodder's four-hit pitching performance. Two of Johnny's hits went to Joy Napolitano who went two for three for the game.

Losing pitcher Sheryl Shaffer was tagged for 12 hits, one of those a two-run homer by Annette Belanger who also tripled and singled. Nancy Bauman collected two hits for the winners.

Miss Hodder also twirled a rare shutout, beating Midas the first time around in the double elimination tourney 9-0. She served up four hits while her teammates staked her to a 10-hit assault over loser Madeline Tracht.

Becky Brown and Rhoha Dreher split four hits between them for Studio.

They're tennis champs

turn back Carol Sotala and Lois Beyer and capture top honors in the women's doubles. More than 80 players competed in the annual tourney. (See story on first sports page).

Westland crowns champs

Studio beats Buzz Troopers in finals

Studio Lounge left no doubt in anyone's mind which was the best playoff team in Westland Parks and Recreation's Class A softball league. They were.

Trampling Buzz Troop 21-8 in the championship game, Studio Lounge claimed the playoff title with little difficulty. The champs scored in every inning except the fifth and built up a 17-2 lead before they eased up on the throttle.

Earlier, Studio edged Kevin's Lounge 12-11, dumped P.J.'s 17-9 and emerged atop of a 11-9 score against Dennett's to finish the playoff series undefeated.

Tom Davidson was given the job of putting down the Troopers in the championship game and he responded with a 14-hitter. He gave up three hits, including a homer to Tim Kennedy who counted two RBIs. Teammate Rick Przytusi also collected three hits off of Kennedy.

Studio's 25-hit assault on loser Chuck Blackman included Jim Taylor's four singles and Dennis James's three hits. James missed hitting for the cycle when he failed to get a double. Both James and Taylor accounted for three RBIs.

Kevin's, after being held scoreless for the first three innings, came alive in the final four innings and nearly upset Studio Lounge's title plans.

Studio drew first blood as it tallied five times in the first inning, added two more in the second to hold a 7-0 lead going into the fourth where Kevin's scored twice. The losers made it a 7-4 ball game in the fifth but Studio widened the gap with a five-run burst in that inning.

Kevin continued the scare into the sixth and seventh innings, scoring three times in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Tom Davidson hung on to chalk up the win, giving up 15 hits - two to Doug Walls who counted five runs batted in. Jeff Hodgkins went three for four, two singles and a double for the losers.

Studio's Tom Wilmot and Bob Goodlow split four hits and mate Gary Battle latched on to three singles.

Studio's destroyed P.J.'s 17-9 after leaping to a 14-0 lead for three innings. It was P.J.'s first loss in the playoffs.

Dick Reynolds, the winning pitcher, gave up a homer to Kevin Lowry and four hits to Larry Michalik. Brian Hopton's two singles drove home four runs and Steve Wilson picked up a pair of singles for the losers.

Reynolds helped his own cause with a four for five night at the plate. He belted a home run, doubled and singled twice, driving home four runs. Battle missed "the cycle" when he failed to homer while Dennis James had four hits and Ron Jones chalked up three for the winners.

Studio had its problems with Dennett's which gave the champs a scare before falling 11-9. Studio led 6-0 going into the top of the third, but Dennett's rallied and got to Reynolds for six runs to tie it up.

Studio broke the deadlock in the bottom of that inning and widened its 7-6 lead with three runs in the fourth. However, Dennett's got the three runs back in its fifth to keep the outcome of the game in doubt until the last stanza.

Jim Ferrari's homer and pair of singles which led to four RBIs kept Dennett's in the game. Teammate Denny McClain had three hits while Rick Wheeler, and Jim Gagleard each checked in with two.

Dennis Reitz homered for the winner and he, along with Battle and Reynolds finished the game with two hits apiece. Mike Kusutich and Jones split six of Studio's 16 hits.

Ferrari was the losing pitcher while Reynolds was credited with the victory.

Buzz Troop's ticket to the championship round was a 12-5 victory over Kevin's Lounge. Kevin's helped in its own demise with four error.

But losing pitcher Doug Walls also had his problems with Chuck Blackman who lashed out with three singles and a double and drove in two runs in a perfect four-for-four game. Bush, who was credited with the victory, helped his cause with a single and double and two RBIs.

One of the hits off of Bush was a solo homer by former Glenn All-Area cager Jim Kholman. Kholman's teammate Bill Wiper smacked a double and triple.

The Troopers survived a close call from P.J.'s Lounge, emerging atop of an 8-7 decision. P.J.'s led through the third inning then the Troopers took over with a four-run spurt that gave them a 4-3 edge. The winners added one run in the fifth and three more in the sixth to offset P.J.'s two runs in each of the last two innings.

Karl Betke had an excellent night at the plate for the losers as he collected three hits in four appearances - a pair of singles and a double.

Don Fillippis belted a 2-run homer for the winners and Kennedy checked in with two hits.

In another cliffhanger, Buzz Troop edged Westland Sports Shop 13-11 thanks to a six-run fourth inning rally and five more in the fifth. The Westlanders blew leads of 7-1 and 9-2.

The defeat was fatal to Westland Sports playoff title hopes.

Perfect host—that's Westland

seen them play eight games in Joliet, Ill. and then four more here, I feel like I'm a regular supporter of theirs.

"Westland has a truly fine team, fine boys and very good hosts. They didn't know until the previous Sunday that they would be hosting this event," Bertino said. "Everyone in this city can be proud of the way your boys battled back and won two double-headers in Joliet against good teams to get into the world series. They deserve it very much."

Bertino presented Cincinnati, who was also coached by Bob Kozniczki, with a $400 silver trophy for winning the national title and each boy on the winning team will receive a regular-size Louisville Slugger baseball bat with his name engraved on it.

Don Wright's battling runner-up squad received a gold trophy and each player was given a plaque with a small bat attached to it.

"What can you say about this team?" Wright asked rhetorically. "I've never seen a team fight harder or battle you right down to the final out like this bunch of boys. They are a credit not only to the city of Westland, where most of them live, but to all of baseball," said Wright, now in his fifth year at the helm of the club.

Coach Clyde Pittman, who has two boys on the team, echoed the sentiments of his manager. Pittman, first base coach and the one who visits the mound for pitching changes, said: "Give these boys all the credit in the world, they really deserve it. They came back in Joliet to win the northern division title against big odds and they kept coming at Cincinnati right up to the final out."

Westland started slowly in American Legion this year, but came on strongly in the last half of the season to rack up a 12-2 league mark.

They won a round-robin with Grosse Ile, Lincoln Park and Great Lakes Steel legion teams for the right to play in Joliet. They lost in their third game in the two-game elimination in Illinois before winning five in a row to take the northern division title on August 15. That string gave them a 19-3 record entering last weekend's world series.

Westland Mayor Tom Taylor and City Council President Justine Barns combined for the ceremonial tossing out of the first ball Friday night. Mrs. Barns dropped the pitch and remarked: "I threw out the first ball in another Westland boys' tournament and I think I'm a better pitcher than catcher."

Mrs. Barns, a great baseball fan, attended three games and fellow council member Paul Tavana also sat in on two of the series tilts. Both council members highly praised the boys on the Westland team for their spirited play as well as commending Cincinnati for its talented players.

Mayor Taylor especially praised the work of Wright who has worked five years to build a winner in Westland. "I'm proud of the boys working so hard," Taylor said. "But I'm especially proud of Don Wright who has put so much of his own time, effort and money to build this baseball program. He deserves a lot of credit."

Tom Potts, president of the Westland Youth Athletic Association, was very happy with the co-operation and fine work of the Westland Parks and Recreation Department in getting the fields ready in just a few days. "Everyone connected with WYAA and the city helped to get the field ready and we appreciate it very much," Potts said.

Mel Bailey, head of Parks and Recreation, simply echoed the praise of others. "It's great to see the fine job everyone did to get the field ready for this tournament. Everybody pitched in and it really helped. We appreciated it very much," Bailey said.

He's top player in his class

Wayne's Continuing Education Program recently sponsored an advanced tennis clinic, directed by Wayne Memorial's head coach Jack Armstrong. At the conclusion of the clinic, the students were given "final exams" in the form of a tournament. And emerging at the head of his class was Kyle Poteau who defeated Craig Palmateer in a playoff. The two players will be welcomed

Dimes' bike-a-thons to begin at Hines Park

Hines Park will be the kickoff point for Super Ride '76, the fifth annual Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes bike-athon, slated for Sept. 11 when bicycling enthusiasts can ride on "the threshold of a dream" for the March of Dimes.

Hines Park will be closed to all traffic other than the bicyclists, volunteers and security from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the first 50-mile super ride.

Three other events will follow the ride. On Sept. 12, the 100-mile Century Ride, beginning at the Michigan State Fairgrounds at 7 a.m., will be held for experienced bikers, with two other 50-mile super rides slated for Sept. 25 at Metropolitan Beach and Grosse Ile. According to Mike Walden, president of the Michigan Bicycle Federation who will marshal Super Ride '76: "Bicycling not only is healthy it is great fun. It can put the fun in fund raising when you are 'super riding' for the March of Dimes."

"All proceeds will further the goal of the March of Dimes in its continuing fight against birth defects."

Participants in the ride must preregister, and children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by an adult. Bikers under 18 years of age must have the permission of a parent or guardian.

All routes of the super rides will be patrolled, and riders with bike trouble will be returned to the starting point.

State Police issue traffic safety plea

A 2-part traffic safety appeal to motorists in Michigan, concerning the Labor Day weekend and the annual reopening of school, has been made by Col. George L. Halverson, director of the Michigan State Police.

Motorists, pedestrians and bicycle riders are being urged to give proper attention to traffic rules in cooperating with various police Labor Day patrols in an effort to reduce the risk of accidents. Last year holiday traffic mishaps claimed 25 lives. The 5-year average is 27 persons.

In regards to the holiday patrols during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Sept. 3 to 12 a.m. Sept. 6, Halverson said State Police district commanders have been directed to schedule officers to provide maximum coverage during the hours of greatest need. The time period usually is from 3 to 7 p.m. each day of the holiday weekend, or what is regarded as a high action time in terms of traffic volume, greater accident risk and previous roadway experience.

Patrol officers will be giving special attention to traffic violations which have an accident-producing risk such as driving under the influence of intoxicants, exceeding speed limits, improper turning and stopping.

Halverson cautioned residents and visitors to observe normal safety precautions in all their holiday weekend activities.

In the other portion of the appeal, Halverson noted that Labor Day is an annual reminder that schools will be resuming weekday operations, calling for greater motorist alertness for the safety concerns of school bus and student pedestrian traffic.

Belleville anglers enjoy liberalized salmon rule

A portion of the Huron River from the Belleville Lake Dam to its mouth is one of 15 Michigan streams where fishermen will be able to keep foul-hooked salmon as part of their legal catch, beginning next Wednesday.

According to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the special rules allow for the rapid harvest of salmon that congregate below dams while the fish are in good condition for eating.

The 15 streams will be covered by the special rules from Sept. 1 through Nov. 15, while a 16th stream—the Sable River—will come under the liberalized salmon rules between Sept. and Oct. 31, from the Hamlin Dam to the river's mouth by a permit available at Ludington State Park.

The liberalized salmon fishing areas and dates are:

Sept. 1 through Oct. 31—Au Sable River from Foote Dam to Rea Road, Manistee River from Papermill Dam to the mouth, Big Manistee River from Tippy Dam to the signs about one mile downstream, Manistee Lake, Pere Marquette River from the signs a quarter mile to three-quarters of a mile below the Scottville Bridge and four sections of the Muskegon River from Croton Dam to Pine Avenue at the access site, High Rollways Public Access Site a half mile above and below (area will be posted), Shaw Park to Old Woman's Bend and US-31 to the mouth of the river.

Sept. 1 to Nov. 15—Grand River in Ionia County to the mouth, Thornapple River at Ada Dam in Kent County to the mouth, Flat River from Lowell Dam in Kent County to the mouth, Fish Creek from Hubbardston Dam in Ionia County to the mouth, Maple River from Elsie Dam in Clinton County to the mouth, Kalamazoo River from Allegan Dam in Allegan County to the mouth, and two sections of the St. Joseph River from Buchanan Dam to the signs approximately a half mile downstream and Berrin Springs Dam to US-31 Bridge at Berrin Springs. Also covered during that time span are the Cass River from Caro Dam in Tuscola County to the mouth and the Huron River from Belleville Dam to the mouth.

The Department of Natural Resources noted that restricted gear may be either artificial or natural bait utilizing unweighted double- or treble-pointed hooks not to exceed ¾ inch from the point to the shank, or unweighted single-pointed hooks not to exceed a half inch from the point to the shank.

Foul-hooked coho, chinook and other Pacific salmon may be retained as part of an angler's five creel limit.

DNR urges hunters: be extra cautious

Western Wayne County hunters going afield for the early put-and-take pheasant season, which began last week, are reminded by the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to be extra cautious and to practice good hunting safety procedures.

The season, which starts a month before some traditional small game openers, will leave hunters coping with heavy late-summer foliage in southern Michigan woods and fields, a condition that will greatly affect visibility making blaze orange garb a necessity.

Since sportsmen also may become subjected to warm weather not normally experienced during cooler autumn hunting, special precautions should be focused on preventing heat stroke and heat exhaustion, a DNR spokesman advised.

Recreational Safety Supervisor Frank Opolka said the DNR recommends hunters wear blaze orange clothing since it is the only color not normally found outdoors, making it easily visible and distinguishable.

"Nearly 50 percent of the hunting accidents last year happened when the shooter and victim were less than 10 yards apart," he added. "Shotguns were involved in almost two-thirds of the accidents, while the most frequent cause of hunting mishaps in 1975 was attributed to poor judgement on the part of the shooter."

He went on to say that "it is clear to understand the department's concern over hunting safety during this early put-and-take season when large numbers of sportsmen are expected to hunt and ground cover is dense."

"It is paramount that hunters remember the five basic safety precautions — to be certain of one's target, be certain no one is the line of fire, know where one's hunting partners are at all times, check twice before considering guns unloaded and don't consume alcohol while hunting," he added.

Opolka suggests that during the put-and-take season, hunters carry a canteen of water and salt tablets to prevent sickness from too much heat or sun. If someone becomes ill afield and his skin is cool and wet from perspiration, Opolka recommends that first aid treatment include rest and the consumption of salt water.

Heat stroke is detected by skin that is hot and dry, because the body cannot perspire. In that situation the idea is to cool the victim's body either by pouring water over him or sponging him with water. Following that emergency treatment the victim should be taken to a doctor or hospital for additional treatment.

tagged for 17-hits, three to Tim Abramski and two to Hugh Gill. Fillips wielded a potent bat for the winners as he stroked a homer and a couple of doubles. Mate Gary Sobkowski drilled a triple and single to chase home three runs while Blackburn collected a double and single.

PJ's earned its niche of distinction before heading for the sidelines as it defeated the Troopers 21-11. PJ's became the only Minor League representative to defeat a Major League team.

Don Thomas and Brian Hopton hammered home runs while Pat Nael replied with a roundtripper and two singles for the winners. Teammate Gary Sobkowski checked in with three hits.

Westland Sports Shop's 19-game winning streak ended in the playoffs as Kevin's posted a narrow 13-12 victory over the league powerhouse.

Tied at 12-all going into the bottom of the seventh, Kevin's broke the deadlock to give Walls the verdict. Tony Pilarski was the losing pitcher.

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT FOOD,
ASK BOBBIE

CANNY HINTS ON CANNED FOODS
IS IT ALL RIGHT TO STORE CANNED FOODS IN THEIR CONTAINERS
ONCE THEY'VE BEEN OPENED?

Yes, providing of course you store
the container in your refrigerator.
Actually the inside of the can is perfectly sterile until it's opened. In this respect it's probably the "safest" container in your kitchen.

Still, I don't recommend storing food in open cans for long periods of time...especially acid foods like tomato juice or pineapple. Acid foods tend to develop a metallic taste when kept in any open metal container although they are still perfectly safe. If you store your leftover juice in a covered glass or plastic jar, it will keep its fresh, wholesome taste for days.
